NATO'S Newest Chief Sheds No. 2 Career

Circumstances Push Norstad Away From His 'Second Fiddle' Role

WASHINGTON (AP)—Circumstances have pushed Gen. Lauris Norstad out of his long-followed career—that of being an efficient No. 2 man.

Since Larry Norstad became the youngest general officer during World War II he has been the quiet, busy, seldom-seen second man for a line of well-known firsts—for the Eisenhowers, the Vandenberges, the Gruenthers.

Tall, lithe, with the look of an airman about him... a quiet, deep voice... the easy manners of a diplomat and the cold, precise mind of a strategist... a long memory for facts and faces.

It has been things like this that made people like Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower say back early in the war that there was a handy man to have around.

Now, at 49 years of age he's out in front, No. 1 named by North Atlantic Treaty Nations and President Eisenhower as the supreme commander of Allied forces in Europe.

Like it or not he is succeeding, Army Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, Norstad is looked upon in the military as a "brain," a "thicker and planner."

Five years ago he went back to Europe as commander of American air forces there, then as commander of Allied air, Norstad served as acting chief of staff of the U. S. Air Force, when Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.) was secretary and Gen. Hoyt Vandenberg the chief of staff. Some old timers around the Pentagon were sizing up the brass. They classified him this way: Symington, the "spokesman"; Vandenberg, the "face"; Norstad, the "philosopher."

Norstad, those who work with him say, has a valuable quality for a commander—he knows how and to whom to delegate authority.

Norstad, with the European High Command and four stars upon him, has been well aware of the raised eyebrows that have come to mention of his age.

Meanderings

I had just perched myself on a stool at the counter in the Down Town Restaurant for supper when Ben Wright, the proprietor, came up and said in a sort of belligerently critical tone: "I can tell you something that should have been in the Record-Herald."

Well, there was nothing new or different about that; people could, and do, tell us of things that should have been in the Record-Herald.

So, since every newspaper seeks to mirror all the goings-on in the community and must, of necessity, depend on the people in it to keep up with the activities, I said: "Yes? And what is it?"

Ben said: "Something should have been in the paper about the kids who were here last Saturday for the music festival. They were the best behaved and best mannered bunch of youngsters anyone could ever hope to see. We had a lot of them in the restaurant for lunch and they all were perfect ladies and gentlemen. You hear so much about juvenile delinquency, I think these teen-agers should be publicly commended."

With this I had to agree... and must confess that this was something that should have been mentioned in the newspaper.

From personal observation and from the clerks in stores and a school officials, there was ample evidence to support what Ben had said. They were a fine bunch of youngsters and I want to thank Ben for calling me to task for the oversight.

As Ben and I talked it over, we agreed that the behavior of these boys and girls possibly could be attributed to their broader interest in life and their participation in school and community activities. I guess we'll have to chalk up some credit to the much-maligned extra-curricular activities in the schools.

Here's an illustration: Earl Barnett told me about how he had stopped in North Fayette Street to wait for a car to pull out of a parking space at the curb when a carful of teen-agers pulled along side and two jumped out and came over to him.

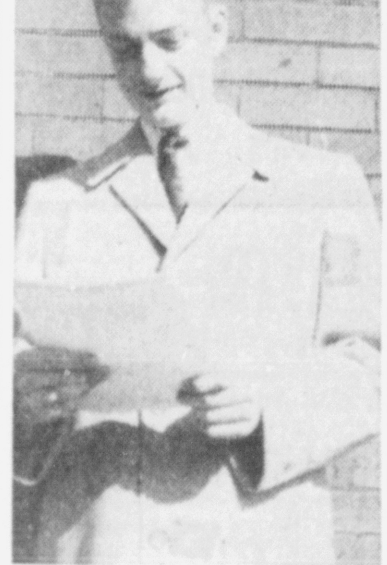

They asked him whether he was having car trouble and, if so, could they be of help. When he explained why he had stopped, the boys jumped back in their car and went merrily along their way.

Earl said they were here for the music festival (they told him), but that he did not know them.

Special Activities For Students Here

Extra-curricular activities in the I. Q. League were set to keep three Washington C. H. High School boys and a young lady from the Wilson school busy all day Friday.

And two of the foursome were set to be doing school-work-out-of-school on Saturday and Sunday as well.

WEBB ELLIS

From the Wilson School, Sharon Lou Smith went to Cincinnati Friday morning for the all-day regional science fair at the University of Cincinnati.

From Washington C. H. High School, Seniors Robert Crouse, Hugh Lentz and James Armour went to Springfield for the statewide Science Fair being held at Wittenberg College.

And also from the Washington C. H. High School, Webb Ellis went to Columbus to represent the H. Y. here in the three-day statewide YMCA model legislature. Crouse, whose weekend will be busiest of all, will go from the science-fair in Springfield to Columbus this afternoon to join Ellis there.

Sharon Smith, the 14-year-old eighth grader who beat out all comers in the regional annual science awards competition at Middletown last week, is competing against winners of another regional contest in Cincinnati.

Her display, "Wonders of the Earth and Sea," which won the regional title for her last week, will be her entry in the competition. The same display several weeks ago won her the right to attend the Middletown show when it took top honors in a science show held here.

THE DISPLAY includes a large tableful of natural oddities, all labeled and explained for viewers.

A $50 prize would be in store for Sharon if she can take top honors in the Cincinnati show. She has already collected $35 dollars from her two previous victories.

Ousted Tutor Demonstrates Use Of Paddle

MCCONNELSVILLE (AP)—Jack W. Eberle, 25, ousted Deavertown high school teacher, demonstrated for school board members at a hearing yesterday how he paddled five of his 15-year-old girl students. The hearing later was recessed until May 3.

The slim, bespectacled teacher said he had the girls learn across his school room desk. Eberle then took up a two-foot long wooden paddle and waved it to show the board members how he wielded it as a disciplinary measure.

Eberle, who also is pastor of a local church, was fired from his teaching job in nearby Deavertown last March 14 for the paddlings. The board charged also that he taught the Bible in class and was insubordinate.

Eberle requested the present hearing to seek reinstatement.

Testifying for the second straight day yesterday Eberle admitted when questioned by school board attorney A. B. Mercer that he had kidded Mrs. Kenneth Woodward, daughter of school board member Roy Fletcher, about "getting fat" after she was married. He replied if he did make the statement, "I said it cleanly and not as you are trying to say."

He wound up his testimony by telling the board: "Regardless of your decision, I will hold no ill feelings."

1909 Hearse Sold

RICHMOND, Ky. (AP)—There's a market for 1909 model, horse-drawn hearses, after all. Burton Roberts, a Richmond undertaker, said he had sold such a vehicle for use in a centennial celebration in Bristol, Tenn., for $225.

Mrs. Gene Smith of the Circleville Road here.

The three boys attending the Springfield competition were also winners in the Science show here. They landed in Friday's statewide competition by getting "superior" ratings in a regional show held in Springfield last week.

Wittenberg College is the host to the show, which is being held in connection with the annual meeting of the Ohio Academy of Science.

Crouse and Lentz have entered a display on "Color and Its Uses" in the physics division of the program. Armour has a demonstration of "Chemical Precipitants" for the show. They all must demonstrate and explain their projects to the judges.

The prize list at the Wittenberg fair includes an array of partial college scholarships.

Crouse is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Crouse of 327 North Hinde Street. Lentz's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Frank R. Lentz of 540 Comfort Lane and Armour's are Mr. and Mrs. John H. Armour of 451 Circle Avenue.

MORE THAN 450 boys and girls from all parts of the state will be participating in the three-day Columbus "legislative session." A full slate of "state officials" will be elected, and an array of bills will be discussed and voted on.

Ellis, who is the alternate delegate from this area, will be serving during Friday's session. Crouse is the regular delegate, and he will take over as soon as he gets to Columbus after the science fair.

Crouse is a senior at Washington C. H. High School and Ellis a junior. Conventionally, Ellis will be able to serve as regular delegate next year, if he wishes.

Among the problems the legislature will be considering are motor vehicle inspection, membership in secret societies by pupils enrolled in public schools, additional aid to the aged and additional protection for game wardens.

A slate of candidates for state offices arrived in Columbus Thursday to prepare for their campaigns. They will present platforms at the opening session Friday, and elections will be held later the same day.

Chief Justice of the State Supreme Court Carl V. Weygant will be the guest speaker at a governor's banquet, set to be held at the legislature Friday night. Although he won't be a regular delegate after Friday, Ellis will probably have a chance to participate in the convention anyhow—he's likely to get seated as a replacement for other delegates.

Ellis' parents are Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Ellis of 214 West Market Street.

Eden, Red Chiefs Open Conference

LONDON (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev opened full-scale talks today with Prime Minister Eden on the situation in the Middle East.

The Kremlin chiefs were accompanied by Downing Street by Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, already in London for the five-power disarmament negotiations, and Jacob Malik, the Russian ambassador to Britain. British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd sat in with Eden.

Eden expected to get down to cases at once on the explosive Middle East situation, where Communist arming of Egypt threatens to upset the balance of power between Israel and the Arab states.

Diplomatic sources said Eden would propose that the United Nations ration both Communist and Western arms to the Arabs and the Israelis.

Khrushchev admitted there could be no real winner in an atomic world war came at a Soviet Embassy luncheon yesterday. Eden and other British political leaders were present.

BY SOVIET standards this was a sensational facing of the facts. The party line for home consumption has always been that capitalism alone, but not communism, could be crushed in any future global outbreak.

In his luncheon address, Khrushchev told the Britons:

"You, gentlemen, do not like communism. We know this, and we do not hide the fact that we do not like capitalism, but we must live in peace. Of course, we do not demand any particular love toward us. However, you cannot but recognize the fact that such a great country as the Soviet Union exists."

"And this country (Russia) wants peace and not war. As the saying goes, one must live not only with the neighbors one chooses but with the ones God sends."

Hamarskjold Winding Up Palestine Talks

UN Aide Secures Truce Agreement, But Incidents Continue

JERUSALEM (AP)—U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold set a last round of talks with Israeli officials today on technical Palestine border questions before leaving for his Middle East headquarters in Beirut.

The U. N. official was pushing to improve border arrangements after the announcement of a new, unconditional cease-fire agreement between Israel and Egypt.

The technical issues up for discussion included proposed new regulations for U. N. investigators working in the border area and the itinerary and timetable of border patrols.

In Egyptian-held Gaza, an Egyptian military spokesman charged today that Israeli planes had violated the coastal area's air space for three consecutive days. He said planes flew over Gaza Wednesday, yesterday and today.

THE SPOKESMAN said Egypt considers the flights a breach of the cease-fire agreement.

Egypt also has charged Israeli with one shooting incident since the two nations agreed not to shoot or cross over the armistice demarcation line after 6 p. m. Wednesday.

An Egyptian military spokesman in Cairo said an Israeli patrol fired yesterday morning on an Egyptian post near Deir el Balah, in the Egyptian-held Gaza coastal strip.

Cairo sources said Hammarskjold's major task now is to assure that the new Egyptian-Israeli cease-fire is carried out. They said he hopes to get both sides to agree to pull their troops back from the frontier and to allow an increase in the number of U. N. observers.

Hammarskjold was dispatched to the Middle East by the U. N. Security Council to secure compliance with the 1949 armistice agreements between Israel and Egypt, Jordan, Lebanon and Syria and to reduce tensions along the demarcation lines set out in the agreement. He is to report to the council on his mission by May 4.

War offers no solution to East-West differences, he said.

"There is only one way out: peaceful coexistence," he asserted. "Today, as a result of the development of technology, war would be of benefit neither to one side nor the other. It can only bring colossal destruction."

Khrushchev said he and Bulganin had come to Britain "with an open heart, guided by the desire to better relations between our countries." But he cautioned the British not to try pressure tactics in negotiating with the Soviet.

"TRY TO BRING pressure to bear upon us, to demand of us the impossible, then nothing will come of this," he warned.

The Russian visitors went to Eden's for dinner last night. Also attending were Sir Winston Churchill and a number of other Conservatives and leaders of the opposition Labor party, including party chief Hugh Gaitskell.

It was a private affair, but the Daily Mail said it learned Bulganin and Khrushchev took a "two-hour combined hammering" from Eden and Churchill.

"It is much too early to talk of spectacular success," the Mail's diplomatic expert wrote, "but I am authoritatively informed the Russians showed signs of moving towards us on a number of problems affecting Anglo-Soviet relations and the broader problem of East-West tension."

Wife's Mistake Kills Cincy Man

CINCINNATI (AP)—Cecil H. McConaughy, 57, was fatally crushed last night against the rear of his garage by his own automobile.

McConaughy's wife, Helen, 54, lost control of the car when she accidentally stepped on the accelerator while her husband was opening the garage door. A headlight shield penetrated McConaughy's lower abdomen.

2 Utah Coal Miners Pulled From Cavein

SUNNYSIDE, Utah (AP)—Rescuers pulled two miners from their trap in a coal cavein today and continued efforts to reach a third known to be alive.

But it appeared a fourth man buried by tons of rock did not live.

The three who survived the avalanche, of earth found shelter beneath mining machinery when the roof of the mine caved in Wednesday at 1:40 p. m. Without food or water, they somehow lived through 40 hours of entombment.

First out was Lavelle Golding, 42, Wellington, Utah, the father of four children. Next, at 5:55 p. m., rescuers reached Joe Archuleta, 43, Dragerton, who has two children.

Kaiser Coal Co., operator of the mine refused to identify the third miner still living until relatives of the fourth man could be notified.

Ambulances hustled the men to the hospital in Sunnyside, 125 miles southeast of Salt Lake City. Dr. Robert Johnson at the hospital examined Golding and said "he is in very good condition, very good spirits."

He quoted Golding as saying the three trapped under the machinery talked to keep up their spirits, but never were able to contact the fourth man. Rescuers cut off Archuleta's finger to free him.

The other two men caught in the avalanche of earth were Lloyd A. Heath, 36, Sunnyside, father of five, and Joseph Otterstrom, 58, father of seven, also of Sunnyside.

Educator Asks Higher Level Of Reading In Newspapers

WASHINGTON (AP)—The president of Columbia University said today that the better educated, wealthier and mature subscriber of today can absorb "a better level of newspaper fare" than most papers give him.

Dr. Grayson Kirk told the American Society of Newspaper Editors that readers deserve good writing, more background news and better interpretation, especially of foreign stories.

(Dr. Kirk is a native of Fayette County and a product of Jeffersonville schools. His mother, Mrs. Train Kirk, and a brother, Willard Kirk, still live on the Kirk farm near Jeffersonville.)

"Mrs. Kirk is the former Marian Sands and her father John Sands lives here. (Mr. and Mrs. Kirk come back here several times a year to visit with their parents and renew old friendships.)

"Occasionally, I feel that you think you will get and hold your reader only if you cater to his impatience and if you compete with other media in entertaining him rather than in informing head of Hereford cattle, an estimated $600 or $700 worth of grain, some farm machinery and other property, reports state.

The Washington C. H. Fire Department tanker was sent to the scene but the flames had gained such a foothold before discovered that there was no hope of saving the barn or contents.

The fire department stood by, and was augmented by a county tank truck with extra supply of water which was used to prevent spread of the fire to other buildings.

The entire structure was destroyed within a surprisingly short time. The loss is partly covered by insurance.

Accident Last Sunday Claims Life of Woman

Mrs. Sara (Sadie) Rinehart, 61, of White Oak, died Thursday afternoon at Memorial Hospital in Washington C. H. as a result of injuries sustained Sunday when a car in which she was riding left the Yankeetown Road in an attempt to avoid a collision.

Mrs. Rinehart was a passenger in the car driven by Walter Slaughter of Springfield.

The accident occurred in Pickaway County, just east of the Fayette County line, but inasmuch as Mrs. Rinehart, Slaughter and Mrs. Slaughter all were brought to Memorial Hospital here, they were interviewed at the hospital by Deputy Sheriff Don Thompson for Pickaway County's Sheriff Charles Radcliff.

Sheriff Radcliff said today that his Deputy Carl White was making an on-the-scene investigation of the wreck at the same time.

Sheriff Radcliff said the accident report filled in by Deputy Thompson showed that Slaughter had told the officer here that his car plunged into a small creek when he was forced to swerve from the road in order to avoid hitting a car that came in to the Old Yankeetown Road from the Clark's Run Road.

Sheriff Radcliff explained that the injured had been taken to the hospital here in the Snyder ambulance from Mt. Sterling by the time Deputy White reached the scene. However, the wrecked car was still there in the creek, he said the deputy reported.

AFTER learning of the death of Mrs. Rinehart, Sheriff Radcliff said efforts to locate the driver of the car Slaughter said pulled into the highway in front of him would be doubled. But, he admitted that finding him, or her, probably would (Please Turn to Page Two)

5-City Gambling Raids Revealed

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Cracking down on what they called a "cross country syndicate of gamblers," Internal Revenue agents have raided alleged gambling places in five cities.

The almost simultaneous raids were kicked off here under the direction of D. Malcolm Anderson, U. S. Attorney for Western Pennsylvania. Before they were over, 18 persons were arrested and the government said it had confiscated "valuable" records.

Anderson said the places were part of a nationwide syndicate that had a "layoff" headquarters in nearby New Kensington, which was out of business when the raids came.

Agents armed with search warrants also hit establishments in Chicago, Fort Worth, Tex., Boston and Newport, Ky.

Eight persons were seized in Chicago, three each in Pittsburgh and Fort Worth, and four in Newport. Most were charged with violation of the Federal Wagering Law of 1951.

ANDERSON declined to say whether more raids will be conducted, but he said he would seek a grand jury investigation locally into the syndicate's operation. He said he expected similar inquiries would be started in other cities.

Revenue agents got their first clue to the operation when more than 3,000 long distance telephone calls were traced to the "layoff headquarters" in New Kensington, Anderson said.

A "layoff" point is used as a safety device by bookmakers who accept more bets than they feel they can handle safely. The original bookmaker passes part of his bets to the "layoff" point, which then accepts responsibility for paying off winners.

Handlers File Opposition To Federal Hearing

'Illegal Proceedings' Claim Filed By Ag Department Spokesman

COLUMBUS (AP)—Spokesmen for Ohio dairymen today pressed officials of the federal government to relax controls to allow an increase in milk prices.

The pleas were heard after attorneys for the middlemen milk handlers attempted to call off the hearings in a local hotel on the grounds they were illegal.

W. T. Osborne, president of the Ohio Milk Producers' Federation, was the first to testify at the hearing.

Osborne urged the government to increase the price of Class I milk by not less than 50 cents per hundredweight. He said while prices and income to dairy farming have been falling, levels of employment, income and wages outside of agriculture have been increasing.

"Reduced income in the face of increasing costs has forced the dairy farmers in their area to extend their lines of credit beyond safe or normal limits for financial stability," Osborne said.

HE ADDED THAT dairy farmers have become dissatisfied with the present price situation, and that orderly marketing has in many instances broken down. Adequate supplies of pure and wholesome milk are being endangered, Osborne said.

The milk producers' official said increased prices to producers are necessary to: (1) assure adequate supplies of milk to markets at reasonable prices to producers and consumers; (2) maintain a system of orderly marketing, assuring highest possible return to producers; and (3) maintain strong effective producer cooperatives interested in their members.

Osborne urged the government to increase the price of Class I milk immediately and that this increase not be terminated prior to Dec. 31, 1956.

As represented at the hearing includes Toledo, Akron, Stark County, Cleveland, Columbus, Dayton, Springfield, Cincinnati, Ohio River Valley, Lima, Fort Wayne, Clarksburg and Wheeling. Robert N. Gorman of Cincinnati, counsel for 26 dairies in that city, offered a motion to dismiss the hearing immediately after Chairman Will Rogers of the US Department of Agriculture opened the session.

One observer advanced the opinion that objections coming from milk handlers were based on the assumption that the handlers, not the producers on the farm, would be the target of any criticism from the ultimate consumer if prices were hiked.

Harold W. Swope, counsel for Wheeling dealers, and Darold Greek, counsel for Columbus handlers, supported Gorman's stand.

Nate Koenig of the Department of Agriculture said information received at the hearing could be used to determine prices paid Ohio milk producers.

Swope inquired whether testimony at the hearing would affect only Class I milk used for bottling. He also inquired whether the hearing would deal only with temporary, emergency prices.

Chairman Rogers, former Oklahoma congressman, said objections to the hearing will be noted in the record, but ordered the meeting to proceed.

J. R. Bridenstein of West Jefferson, manager of the Central Ohio Milk Producers Cooperative Assn., recommended a 40-cent per hundred pounds increase in the price of Class I milk for producers in the Columbus area.

He said a separate hearing last month received that recommendation, but it has yet to be acted on. The recommendation called for an increase from May 1 to the end of this year.

Swope asked if such an increase on Class I milk would change the price of Class II milk. The attorney said Class II milk was that not used for bottling.

Bridenstein said he was talking only about Class I milk and continued questioning by Swope and other attorneys representing handlers did not shake him.

Swope then moved to strike Bridenstein's testimony from the record.

"The witness can clear this up if he will give a forthright answer on whether a change in Class I price will affect the Class II price," Swope asserted.

Rogers denied the motion.

BY SOVIET standards this was a sensational facing of the facts. The party line for home consumption has always been that capitalism alone, but not communism, would be crushed in any future global outbreak.

In his luncheon address, Khrushchev told the Britons: "You, gentlemen, do not like communism. We know this, and we do not hide the fact that we do not like capitalism, but we must live in peace. Of course, we do not demand any particular love toward us. However, you cannot but recognize the fact that such a great country as the Soviet Union exists."

"And this country (Russia) wants peace and not war. As the saying goes, one must live not only with the neighbors one chooses but with the ones God sends."

Hammaraskjold Winding Up Palestine Talks

UN Aide Secures Truce Agreement, But Incidents Continue

JERUSALEM (AP) — U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold set a last round of talks with Israeli officials today on technical Palestine border questions before leaving for his Middle East headquarters in Beirut.

The U. N. official was pushing to improve border arrangements after the announcement of a new, unconditional cease-fire agreement between Israel and Egypt.

The technical issues up for discussion included proposed new regulations for U.N. investigators working in the border area and the itinerary and timetable of border patrols.

In Egyptian-held Gaza, an Egyptian military spokesman charged today that Israeli planes had violated the coastal area's air space for three consecutive days. He said planes flew over Gaza Wednesday, yesterday and today.

THE SPOKESMAN said Egypt considers the flights a breach of the cease-fire agreement.

Egypt also has charged Israeli with one shooting incident since the two nations agreed not to shoot or cross over the armistice demarcation line after 6 p. m. Wednesday.

An Egyptian military spokesman in Cairo said an Israeli patrol fired yesterday morning on an Egyptian post near Deir el-Balah, in the Egyptian-held Gaza coastal strip.

Cairo sources said Hammarskjold's major task now is to assure that the new Egyptian-Israeli cease-fire is carried out. They said he hopes to get both sides to agree to pull their troops back from the frontier and to allow an increase in the number of U.N. observers.

Hammarskjold was dispatched to the Middle East by the U.N. Security Council to secure compliance with the 1949 armistice agreements between Israel and Egypt, Jordan, Lebanon and Syria and to reduce tensions along the demarcation lines set out in the agreement. He is to report to the council on his mission by May 4.

War offers no solution to East-West differences, he said. "There is only one way out, peaceful coexistence," he asserted. "Today, as a result of the development of technology, war would be of benefit neither to one side nor the other. It can only bring colossal destruction."

Khrushchev said he and Bulganin had come to Britain "with an open heart, guided by the desire to better relations between our countries." But he cautioned the British not to try pressure tactics in negotiating with the Soviet.

"TRY TO BRING pressure to bear upon us, to demand of us the impossible, then nothing will come of this," he warned.

The Russian visitors went to Eden's for dinner last night. Also attending were Sir Winston Churchill and a number of other Conservatives and leaders of the opposition Labor party, including party chief Hugh Gaitskill.

It was a private affair, but the Daily Mail said it learned Bulganin and Khrushchev took a "two-hour combined hammering" from Eden and Churchill.

"It is much too early to talk of spectacular success," the Mail's diplomatic expert wrote, "but I am authoritatively informed the Russians showed signs of moving towards us on a number of problems affecting Anglo-Soviet relations and the broader problem of East-West tension."

Wife's Mistake Kills Cincy Man

CINCINNATI (AP)—Cecil H. McConaughy, 57, was fatally crushed last night against the rear of his garage by his own automobile.

McConaughy's wife, Helen, 54, lost control of the car when she accidentally stepped on the accelerator while her husband was opening the garage door. A head light shield penetrated McConaughy's lower abdomen.

4 Cattle Die in Blazing Barn

SMOKING RUINS OF THE BARN where four calves died are examined Friday afternoon by Charles Cox, son-in-law of the calves' owner, George Weidinger. The fire razed the barn, located on the farm Weidinger operates on the Mt. Olive Road, in just over half an hour. (Record-Herald photo)

Fire of undetermined origin late Friday morning destroyed a large barn and contents on the George Weidinger farm on the Mt. Olive Road a few miles west of Washington C. H.

Burned with the barn were four

2 Utah Coal Miners Pulled From Cavein

SUNNYSIDE, Utah (AP) — Rescuers pulled two miners from their trap in a coal cavein today and continued efforts to reach a third known to be alive.

But it appeared a fourth man buried by tons of rock did not live.

The three who survived the avalanche of earth found shelter beneath mining machinery when the roof of the mine caved in Wednesday at 1:40 p. m. Without food or water, able to move only a few inches, they somehow lived through 40 hours of entombment.

First out was Lavell Golding, 42, Wellington, Utah, the father of four children. Next, at 5:55 p. m., rescuers reached Joe Archuleta, 43, Dragerton, who has two children.

Kaiser Coal Co., operator of the mine refused to identify the third miner still living until relatives of the fourth man could be notified.

Ambulances hustled the men to the hospital in Sunnyside, 125 miles southeast of Salt Lake City.

Dr. R. Bert Johnson at the hospital examined Golding and said "he is in very good condition, very good spirits."

He quoted Golding as saying the three trapped under the machinery talked to keep up their spirits, but never were able to contact the fourth man. Rescuers cut off Archuleta's finger to free him.

The other two men caught in the avalanche of earth were Lloyd A. Heath, 36, Sunnyside, father of five, and Joseph Osterstrom, 58, father of seven, also of Sunnyside.

Educator Asks Higher Level Of Reading In Newspapers

WASHINGTON (AP) — The president of Columbia University said today that the better educated, wealthier and more sophisticated of today can absorb "a better level of newspaper fare" than most persons give him.

Dr. Grayson Kirk told the American Society of Newspaper Editors that readers deserve good writing, more background news and better interpretation, especially of foreign stories.

(Dr. Kirk is a native of Fayette County and a product of Jeffersonville schools. His mother, Mrs. Train Kirk, and a brother, Willard Kirk, still live on the Kirk farm near Jeffersonville.)

(Mrs. Kirk is the former Marian Sands and her father John Sands lives here.)

Accident Last Sunday Claims Life of Woman

Mrs. Sara (Sadie) Rinehart, 61, of White Oak, died Thursday afternoon at Memorial Hospital in Washington C. H. as a result of injuries sustained Sunday when a car in which she was riding left the Yankeetown Road in an attempt to avoid a collision.

Mrs. Rinehart was a passenger in the car driven by Walter Slaughter of Springfield.

The accident occurred in Pickaway County, just east of the Fayette County line, but inasmuch as Mrs. Rinehart, Slaughter and Mrs. Slaughter all were brought to Memorial Hospital here, they were interviewed at the hospital by Deputy Sheriff Don Thompson for Pickaway County's Sheriff Charles Radcliff.

Sheriff Radcliff said today that his Deputy Carl White was making an on-the-scene investigation of the wreck at the same time.

Sheriff Radcliff said the accident report filled in by Deputy Thompson showed that Slaughter had told the officer here that his car plunged into a small creek when he was forced to swerve from the road in order to avoid hitting a car that came in to the Old Yankeetown Road from the Clark's Run Road.

Sheriff Radcliff explained that the injured had been taken to the hospital here in the Snyder ambulance from Mt. Sterling by the time Deputy White reached the scene. However, the wrecked car was still there in the creek, he said the deputy reported.

AFTER learning of the death of Mrs. Rinehart, Sheriff Radcliff said efforts to locate the driver of the car Slaughter said pulled into the highway in front of him would be doubled. But, he admitted that finding him, or her, probably would (Please Turn to Page Two)

5-City Gambling Raids Revealed

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Cracking down on what they called a "cross country syndicate of gamblers," Internal Revenue agents have raided alleged gambling places in five cities.

The almost simultaneous raids were kicked off here under the direction of D. Malcolm Anderson, U. S. Attorney for Western Pennsylvania. Before they were over, 18 persons were arrested and the government said it had confiscated "valuable" records.

Anderson said the places were part of a nationwide syndicate that had a "layoff" headquarters in nearby New Kensington, which was out of business when the raids came.

Agents armed with search warrants also hit establishments in Chicago, Fort Worth, Tex., Boston and Newport, Ky.

Eight persons were seized in Chicago, three each in Pittsburgh and Fort Worth, and four in Newport. Most were charged with violation of the Federal Wagering Law of 1951.

ANDERSON declined to say whether more raids will be conducted, but he said he would seek a grand jury investigation locally into the syndicate's operation. He said he expected similar inquiries would be started in other cities.

Revenue agents got their first clue to the operation when more than 3,000 long distance telephone calls were traced to the "layoff headquarters" in New Kensington, Anderson said.

A "layoff" point is used as a safety device by bookmakers who accept more bets than they feel they can handle safely. The original bookmaker passes part of his bets to the "layoff" point, which then accepts responsibility for paying off winners.

Handlers File Opposition To Federal Hearing

'Illegal Proceedings' Claim Filed By Ag Department Spokesman

COLUMBUS (AP)—Spokesmen for Ohio dairymen today pressed officials of the federal government to relax controls to allow an increase in milk prices.

The pleas were heard after attorneys for the middlemen milk handlers attempted to call off the hearings in a local hotel on the grounds they were illegal.

W. T. Osborne, president of the Ohio Milk Producers' Federation, was the first to testify at the hearing.

Osborne urged the government to increase the price of Class I milk by not less than 50 cents per hundredweight. He said while prices and income to dairy farming have been falling, levels of employment, income and wages outside of agriculture have been increasing.

"Reduced income in the face of increasing costs has forced the dairy farmers in their area to extend their lines of credit beyond safe or normal limits for financial stability," Osborne said.

HE ADDED THAT dairy farmers have become dissatisfied with the present price situation, and that orderly marketing has in many instances broken down. Adequate supplies of pure and wholesome milk are being endangered, Osborne said.

The milk producers' official said increased prices to producers are necessary to: (1) assure adequate supplies of milk to markets at reasonable prices to producers and consumers; (2) maintain a system of orderly marketing, assuring highest possible return to producers and (3) maintain strong effective producer cooperatives interested in their members.

Osborne urged the government to increase the price of Class I milk immediately and that this increase not be terminated prior to Dec. 31, 1956.

As was represented at the hearing include Toledo, Akron, Stark County, Cleveland, Columbus, Dayton, Springfield, Cincinnati, Ohio River Valley, Lima, Fort Wayne, Clarksburg and Wheeling. Robert N. Gorman of Cincinnati, counsel for 26 dairies in that city, offered a motion to dismiss the hearing immediately after Chairman Will Rogers of the U.S. Department of Agriculture opened the session.

One observer advanced the opinion that objections coming from milk handlers were based on the assumption that the handlers, not the producers on the farm, would be the target of any criticism from the ultimate consumer if prices were hiked.

Harold W. Swope, counsel for Wheeling dealers, and Darold Greek, counsel for Columbus handlers, supported Gorman's stand.

Nate Koenig of the Department of Agriculture said information received at the hearing could be used to determine prices paid Ohio milk producers.

Swope inquired whether testimony at the hearing would affect only Class I milk used for bottling. He also inquired whether the hearing would deal only with temporary, emergency prices.

Chairman Rogers, former Oklahoma congressman, said objections to the hearing will be noted in the record, but ordered the meeting to proceed.

J. R. Bridenstein of West Jefferson, manager of the Central Ohio Milk Producers Cooperative Assn., recommended a 40-cent per hundred pounds increase in the price of Class I milk for producers in the Columbus area.

He said a separate hearing last month received that recommendation, but it has yet to be acted on. The recommendation called for an increase from May 1 to the end of this year.

Swope asked if such an increase on Class I milk would change the price of Class II milk. The attorney said Class II milk was that not used for bottling.

Bridenstein said he was talking only about Class I milk and continued questioning by Swope and other attorneys representing handlers did not shake him.

Swope then moved to strike Bridenstein's testimony from the record.

"The witness can clear this up if he will give a forthright answer on whether a change in Class I price will affect the Class II price," Swope asserted. Rogers denied the motion.

Lewis Redd is PTO President

Bloomington Group Elects New Officers

Lewis Redd is the new president of the Bloomington Parent-Teacher Organization, it was announced at a PTO meeting held at the school Thursday night.

Redd was named for the post by the group's nominating committee, under the direction of Charles McCoy. Other officers named at the same session were Robert Browning, vice-president; Mrs. Jess Schlichter, secretary; Mrs. Roush Burton, treasurer and Mrs. Donald Mossbarger, news reporter.

All were elected at a busy end-of-the-year meeting which included a speech by Miami Trace Superintendent W. W. Boyer on the results of the research of the Miami Trace Fact-Finding Committee and the approval of expansion of play facilities at the school.

BOYER, in his first appearance before the Bloomington group, presented a detailed account of the fact-finding committee's findings. He showed enrollment figures, drop - out rates, tax statistics and operational costs.

Also on hand were Miami Trace Board chairman Taylor Groff and member Gordon Cowdrey.

Enlargement and new equipment are in store for the younger children's play area at the school as a result of action taken at the meeting. A committee to purchase and install equipment and to enlarge the play area was appointed at the meeting.

MEMBERS of the committee are Charles McCoy, chairman, along with Harry Craig, Mrs. Charles Andrews, Mrs. Jess Schlichter, John Cannon and Mrs. Rex Bloomer.

Much discussion at the meeting revolved around time and facilities for the play equipment. It was from the discussion that the move for purchase developed.

The annual spring band concert and vocal ensemble will be held Friday, May 11, it was announced by Mrs. Paul Elliott, music director at the school.

A meeting of mothers interested in forming a band mothers club will be held Tuesday afternoon, it was agreed at the session. A club of this sort existed several years ago, but has "faded out" in recent years.

225 HEREFORD CATTLE
MARSHALL, OHIO

MONDAY, APRIL 23,
BEGINNING AT 12:00 NOON

Sale to be held on the Estel Wilson Farm located eight miles southeast of Hillsboro, Ohio, and one-half mile south of Marshall on State Route 124.

102 HEREFORD CATTLE
WITH CALVES BY SIDE

This choice lot of cows was purchased in Colorado two years ago by Mr. Wilson and have been on his farm since that time. The 1953 crop of calves from these cows topped the Chillicothe Feeder Calf Sale last October with many of the calves selling for a premium of from 3c to 4c a pound. This year's crop of calves, which are from four to 10 weeks old, were sired by registered bulls. Each cow and calf is numbered with neck chains so that there is positive identification of all calves. The cows are in excellent condition and weigh from 1200 to 1300 pounds. No horns. There is no question but what this is one of the best herds of Hereford cows and calves to be found in this section of the state.
SEVEN CHOICE HEREFORD COWS, SELLING OPEN.
Two Registered Hereford Bulls. Two years old.
Eight Hereford stockers, good quality, weighing from 400 to 500 lbs.
Four Angus heifers, average weight 700 lbs., selling open.
This herd of cattle may be inspected on the farm any time prior to sale. T. B. and Bang's tested. Individual health papers for each animal.

Red Rose
PIG STARTER PELLETS

Rate of growth in large litters is often slowed by inadequate milk production of the sow. RED ROSE PIG STARTER PELLETS are designed to supplement the sow's milk so that when the pigs' appetites exceed the milk supply, the litter will be accustomed to eating pelleted feed. This "early nutrition" supplies additional vitamins and antibiotics which permits the litter to be weaned earlier without the setbacks in growth which frequently occur at weaning time. The pigs grow more uniformly and reach market weights earlier.

High antibiotic and vitamin levels in Red Rose Pig Starter Pellets also help prevent scouring, insure against anemia, develop vigor, and by earlier weaning prevent heavy weight losses in the sow.

RED ROSE PIG STARTER PELLETS are completely balanced — ready to feed — less waste.
These pellets — just the right size — are easily eaten by pigs and are highly palatable. Try them on your next litter!

Lewis Redd is PTO President

Bloomington Group Elects New Officers

Lewis Redd is the new president of the Bloomington Parent-Teacher Organization, it was announced at a PTO meeting held at the school Thursday night.

Redd was named for the post by the group's nominating committee, under the direction of Charles McCoy. Other officers named at the same session were Robert Browning, vice-president; Mrs. Jess Schlichter, secretary; Mrs. Roush Burton, treasurer; and Mrs. Donald Mossbarger, news reporter.

All were elected at a busy end-of-the-year meeting which included a speech by Miami Trace Superintendent W. W. Boyer on the results of the research of the Miami Trace Fact-Finding Committee and the approval of expansion of play facilities at the school.

BOYER, in his first appearance before the Bloomington group, presented a detailed account of the fact-finding committee's findings. He showed enrollment figures, drop-out rates, tax statistics and operational costs.

Also on hand were Miami Trace Board chairman Taylor Groff and member Gordon Cowdrey.

Enlargement and new equipment are in store for the younger children's play area at the school as a result of action taken at the meeting. A committee to purchase and install equipment and to enlarge the play area was appointed at the meeting.

MEMBERS of the committee are Charles McCoy, chairman, along with Harry Craig, Mrs. Charles Andrews, Mrs. Jess Schlichter, John Cannon and Mrs. Rex Bloomer.

Much discussion at the meeting revolved around time and facilities for the play equipment. It was from the discussion that the move for purchase developed.

The annual spring band concert and vocal ensemble will be held Friday, May 11, it was announced by Mrs. Paul Elliott, music director at the school.

A meeting of mothers interested in forming a band mothers club will be held Tuesday afternoon, it was agreed at the session. A club of this sort existed several years ago, but has "faded out" in recent years.

Shepherds Plan Jr. Fair Awards

More Than $250 For Junior Sheep Champs

More than $250 in special premiums will be given to young sheep exhibitors at the Fair next summer by the County Shepherds Club. The awards will be given following the Fair to members of the 4-H, Future Farmers of America and the Junior Shepherds Club.

All prizes will be given in addition to those awarded by the Junior Fair. For each market lamb the club will give $1.25 for an A rating, $1 for B and 75 cents for C. Also, the club will give $3 for each ewe and ram breed champion.

In addition to the cash awards, the club again agreed to give the junior and senior showmanship trophies at the Fair. The plaques are given to the youngsters who on the most outstanding job of displaying their animal to the judges.

Action favoring the awards was taken at a club meeting held Wednesday evening.

A special Junior Shepherds show was planned at the same meeting. The show will be held in connection with a lamb pool, either June 29 or July 13. It is to be open to boys and girls who have obtained units of commercial ewes through the assistance of the club.

Junior Shepherds' projects will be viewed on a special tour set for Saturday, June 2. Members of the junior and senior clubs will visit each of the 20 junior members' projects.

Subscriptions to "The Shepherdman" have been entered by the club for all members of the 4-H, FFA and junior shepherds club. President G. B. Vance said the move was made in an effort on the part of the club to help out with education and promotion of lamb and wool production.

Producers Cooperative will continue to handle the marketing of club member's lambs. It was agreed at the meeting. There will be 17 lamb pools this season. The first is set for June 15 and the last for February 8, 1957.

Directors present at the meeting included A. R. Rankin, Alvin Sexton, Homer Wilson, Eldon Marshall, Walter Thompson and G. B. Vance, along with George Kuhlwein and Associate Agent Phil Grover.

MARION CIRCLETTES

Scrapbooks for patients at Fayette County Memorial Hospital will be made by members of the Marion Circlettes 4-H club, it was agreed at a club meeting held Tuesday evening.

Donna Burke was named chairman of the scrapbook committee. Members of the committee are Trudy Wolfe, Karen Stephenson, Becky Klever and Ann Draise.

A demonstration of threading a sewing machine was given at the same meeting by Marilyn Writsel.

The girls will tour Craig's department store next Tuesday at 4:30 P. M., it was decided at the session.

Refreshments were served by Sally Kilgore and Rebecca Dougherty.

Club meetings will be held every two weeks from now on, in order that the club may be ready for the fair. Next meeting will be held Tuesday, May 2, at the home of Mrs. Charles Stephenson. Refreshments will be served by Jane Hutson and Shirley Hopper.

YOUNG ATOMIC FARMERS

Square dancing to the calls of Roger Bonham was the entertainment order of the evening at a meeting of the Young Atomic Farmers 4-H club held at the Olive School.

President Joe Cockerill led the group in the 4-H pledge to open the session. Donna Lou Rife read the secretary's report.

Member's projects were discussed at the session.

Brenda Burton, Tom Cockerill and Mike Wagner served refreshments, along with five parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Rife, Mrs. Russell Theobald and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Baker.

MERRY STITCHERS

The Merry Stitchers 4-H club welcomed two new members at their regular meeting.

Donna Mitehem and Shelby Tubbs were the two welcomed into the club. The club expressed gratitude at having new members at fair time approaches.

Rebecca Graves opened the meeting with the 4-H pledge and the pledge to the U. S. Flag. Shar- or Grubb gave the roll call. Sharon and Carolyn Williams gave the secretary's and the treasurer's reports.

Mrs. Carroll Williams, the club's adviser, demonstrated several sewing techniques for the members.

Refreshments were served by Dixie Lee Coe.

THE PIXIES

A selling demonstration highlighted the regular meeting of the Pixies 4-H club, held at the home of Mrs. Joe Loudner.

The demonstration came on the heels of the conclusion of the club's money-making project. Final details of the project were tied together at the same meeting.

Girls answered the roll call at the session by naming a good health habit.

JEFF MIX AND MAKERS

Reports of the good grooming clinic and the officers and advisors conference were given at a meeting of the Jeff Mixers and Makers 4-H club held at the Jeffersonville school.

The girls worked on the tea towels they are making as one of their projects.

A safety report was given at the meeting by Mae Minney. The next meeting will be held April 26.

THIMBLE SISTERS

Demonstration will keep members of the Thimble Sisters 4-H Club busy for the next few weeks.

The girls have agreed to undertake a program for the next few weeks that will give other club members insight on what they have been doing for 4-H work recently.

Decision on the matter was reached at the club's regular meeting, held at the home of Mrs. Elsie M. Lucas.

Jackets for club members should be available soon, it was announced at the meeting.

Money making plans took up some discussion time. The girls decided to discuss the matter further at the next meeting.

Baskets, designed and filled by club members were delivered to patients in county rest homes the day after Easter, it was announced.

Refreshments were served by the hostess. Next meeting is set for May 1, at the home of the Advisor Mrs. Elsie Lucas.

MARION MARVELS

All 23 members of the Marion Marvels were on hand for the club's last session in the Farm Bureau auditorium.

The boys and girls, hearing Larry O'Cull report a balance of $25.19 in the treasury, voted to buy signs reading "A 4-H Club Member Lives Here" for each member to display in front of his home.

President Kenny Draise opened the meeting, leading the youngsters in the 4-H pledge. Sue Ellen Graulich read the secretary's report and called the roll.

Ann Briggs read a letter of appeal from the Cancer Society and the club voted a $2 donation to the fund. The members have also agreed to work during the Cancer Fund tag day drive on Saturday.

Reports on the officers and advisors conference held here recently were submitted by Ann Draise, the health leader, and Gene O'Cull, the safety leader.

The session closed with the pledge to the flag. George Clifton, Fred Summers and Gene O'Cull served refreshments.

Dear Sir:

If your child is sick, don't call a doctor; just get "concrete recommendations" from a Fact Finding Committee of farmers.

If your soil is sick and your crops poor, don't have the soil tested; it might be "an inexcusable dissipation of funds."

If you are going to build a house, don't bother with an architect; just let your neighbors advise you.

That seems the procedure of the Miami Trace Board of Education!

Admitting, by their own figures, that their schools are sick, that 33 percent of the first graders never finish the eighth grade and that another 22 percent drops out in high school—leaving only 52 out of every 100 children to graduate from high school, is certainly evidence of a sick school system. Yet, they refuse the only professional

Shepherds Plan Jr. Fair Awards

More Than $250 For Junior Sheep Champs

More than $250 in special premiums will be given to young sheep exhibitors at the Fair next summer by the County Shepherds Club. The awards will be given following the Fair to members of the 4-H, Future Farmers of America and the Junior Shepherds Club.

All prizes will be given in addition to those awarded by the Junior Fair. For each market lamb the club will give $1.25 for an A rating, $1 for B and 75 cents for C. Also, the club will give $3 for each ewe and ram breed champion.

In addition to the cash awards, the club again agreed to give the junior and senior showmanship trophies at the Fair. The plaques are given to the youngsters who do the most outstanding job of displaying their animal to the judges. Action favoring the awards was taken at a club meeting held Wednesday evening.

A special Junior Shepherds show was planned at the same meeting. The show will be held in connection with a lamb pool, either June 29 or July 13. It is to be open to boys and girls who have obtained units of commercial ewes through the assistance of the club.

Junior Shepherds' projects will be viewed on a special tour set for Saturday, June 2. Members of the junior and senior clubs will visit each of the 20 junior members' projects.

Subscriptions to "The Sheepman", have been entered by the club for all members of the 4-H, FFA and junior shepherds club. President G. B. Vance said the move was made in an effort on the part of the club to help out with education and promotion of lamb and wool production.

Producers Cooperative will continue to handle the marketing of club member's lambs, it was agreed at the meeting. There will be 17 lamb pools this season. The first is set for June 15 and the last for February 8, 1957.

Directors present at the meeting included A. R. Rankin, Alvin Sexton, Homer Wilson, Eldon Marshall, Walter Thompson and G. B. Vance, along with George Kuhlwein and Associate Agent Phil Grover.

4-H Club Activities

MARION CIRCLETTES

Scrapbooks for patients at Fayette County Memorial Hospital will be made by members of the Marion Circlettes 4-H club, it was agreed at a club meeting held Tuesday evening.

Donna Burke was named chairman of the scrapbook committee. Members of the committee are: Trudy Wolfe, Karen Stephenson, Becky Klever and Ann Draise.

A demonstration of threading a sewing machine was given at the same meeting by Marilyn Writsel.

The girls will tour Craig's department store next Tuesday at 4:30 P. M., it was decided at the session.

Refreshments were served by Sally Kilgore and Rebecca Dougherty.

Club meetings will be held every two weeks from now on, in order that the club may be ready for the fair. Next meeting will be held Tuesday, May 2, at the home of Mrs. Charles Stephenson. Refreshments will be served by Jane Hutson and Shirley Hopper.

YOUNG ATOMIC FARMERS

Square dancing to the calls of Roger Bonham was the entertainment order of the evening at a meeting of the Young Atomic Farmers 4-H club held at the Olive School.

President Joe Cockerill led the group in the 4-H pledge to open the session. Donna Lou Rife read the secretary's report.

Member's projects were discussed at the session.

Brenda Burton, Tom Cockerill and Mike Wagner served refreshments, along with five parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Rife, Mrs. Russell Theobald and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Baker.

MERRY STITCHERS

The Merry Stitchers 4-H club welcomed two new members at their regular meeting.

Donna Mitchem and Shelby Tubbs were the two welcomed into the club. The club expressed gratitude at having new members at fair time approaches.

Rebecca Graves opened the meeting with the 4-H pledge and the pledge to the U. S. Flag. Sharon Grubb gave the roll call. Sharon and Carolyn Williams gave the secretary's and the treasurer's reports.

Mrs. Carroll Williams, the club's adviser, demonstrated several sewing techniques for the members.

Refreshments were served by Dixie Lee Coe.

THE PIXIES

A selling demonstration high lighted the regular meeting of the Pixies 4-H club, held at the home of Mrs. Joe Loudner.

The demonstration came on the heels of the conclusion of the club's money-making project. Final details of the project were tied together at the same meeting.

Girls answered the roll call at the session by naming a good health habit.

JEFF MIX AND MAKERS

Reports of the good grooming clinic and the officers and advisors conference were given at a meeting of the Jeff Mixers and Makers 4-H club held at the Jeffersonville school.

The girls worked on the tea towels they are making as one of their projects.

A safety report was given at the meeting by Mae Minney. The next meeting will be held April 26.

THIMBLE SISTERS

Demonstration will keep members of the Thimble Sisters 4-H Club busy for the next few weeks.

The girls have agreed to undertake a program for the next few weeks that will give other club members insight on what they have been doing for 4-H work recently.

Decision on the matter was reached at the club's regular meeting, held at the home of Mrs. Elsie M. Lucas.

Jackets for club members should be available soon, it was announced at the meeting.

Money making plans took up some discussion time. The girls decided to discuss the matter further at the next meeting.

Baskets, designed and filled by club members were delivered to patients in county rest homes the day after Easter, it was announced.

Refreshments were served by the hostess. Next meeting is set for May 1, at the home of the Advisor Mrs. Elsie Lucas.

MARION MARVELS

All 23 members of the Marion Marvels were on hand for the club's last session in the Farm Bureau auditorium.

The boys and girls, hearing Larry O'Call report a balance of $25.19 in the treasury, voted to buy signs reading "A 4-H Club Member Lives Here" for each member to display in front of his home.

President Kenny Draise opened the meeting, leading the youngsters in the 4-H pledge. Sue Ellen Graulich read the secretary's report and called the roll.

Ann Briggs read a letter of appeal from the Cancer Society and the club voted a $2 donation to the fund. The members have also agreed to work during the Cancer Fund tag day drive on Saturday.

Reports on the officers and advisors conference held here recently were submitted by Ann Draise, the health leader, and Gene O'Call, the safety leader.

The session closed with the pledge to the flag. George Clifton, Fred Summers and Gene O'Call served refreshments.

Eisenhower Proves His Courage By Veto

In talking with many Fayette County people, including several farmers, since the veto of the "omnibus" farm bill by President Eisenhower, there seems to be quite a difference of opinion as to what the political effect will be.

One thing stands out clearly however in the opinion of about nine out of ten who comment upon this action and that is that it definitely settles any question about Eisenhower's courage in following his convictions rather than attempting to play politics as the authors of the bill appeared to be doing in this election year.

President Eisenhower followed a difficult course at a critical time with an important presidential election not many months away but he appeared to be acting upon the celebrated Henry Clay theory that "he would rather be right than be president". The chances are, however, that he can be both right and continue to be president. That Congress has now upheld the veto probably is the best thing for the country.

The president was subjected to untold pressure from election-minded advisors but he "stuck to his guns" in his expressed feeling that the bill was "bad both for the farmers and country".

To most people who express their honest judgment the bill was a hopeless mess of demagoguery, designed by a Democratic majority as a vote-getter for congressmen who supported it in their hope for finding an issue to be used in the election against President Eisenhower.

To those who sincerely desired some type of aid for the farmers, yet wanted to be honest about the legislation, the bill was a misfit with elements of economic anarchy and preferential treatment for certain types of agriculture. It was far from being an honestly constructive piece of legislation.

Many of the best thinkers among legislators and members of the farm industry frankly state that they know the problem of farm surpluses can never be solved by persisting in surplus building policies such as the rigid 90 percent of parity payments advocated by Democrats (and some Republicans) as well for crudely selfish rather than economically sound effects.

President Eisenhower has now vindicated the staunch, lonely stand of Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Benson. He asserts in his veto message that the much-bruited farm problem is a problem of "price-depressing surpluses," which high parity payments turn into a vicious circle by stimulating ever more surpluses.

"Excess stocks of certain farm commodities," he states, "have mounted to market-destroying, price-depressing size as a result of wartime price incentives too long continued. Any forward-looking program to meet the needs of farm people must remove the burden of these accumulations. They are depressing net farm income by many hundreds of millions of dollars a year"—as well as costing the American public (Eisenhower might have added) billions of dollars a year in excessive government payments and artificially high prices on agricultural products.

The fact that the wretched farm bill was motivated by election year considerations in no wise mitigates its wretchedness. The presidency, under exactly the same political pressures as the Congress, managed to resist those pressures, whereas the Congress caved in at every critical point.

TV Make You Half-Tired?

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Are you getting the most out of your television viewing?

If not, perhaps you have only yourself to blame. Perhaps your posture is at fault.

In television watching, proper posture is as important as it is in the more competitive forms of sport—such as golf or tennis.

What is the right posture? There is no such thing as a single right posture. It depends on the program you are watching.

The trouble with most televisioners is that they stick to one posture. Typically, they sit slumped down in an easy chair that gradually cuts off the circulation in the lower part of the body.

What happens? When the fellow rises after a four-hour siege of staring at the one-eyed monster in his living room, his mind and glazed eyeballs are worn out and ready for bed.

But what about his legs and feet? They have been sound asleep for nearly four hours and are now wide awake. So what happens then? The upper part of this confused TV fan's body sleeps soundly all night, the bottom part of his body twists and turns restlessly.

By dawn he wakes up mentally refreshed, but his busy feet are now yawning and ready for sleep. No wonder such a fellow complains, "I always feel half-tired." He is half-tired, literally. His bad TV posture has gotten his body out of physical synchronization.

The way for him to get back into condition is to vary his posture with each program. Then, after a long evening of studying the television screen, all parts of his body will be equally exercised and ready for bed.

Since individuals vary, each person should work out a series of postures that seem best suited to his own needs. But here are a few suggestions:

TV baseball games — Don't merely just stretch out with one leg thrown over the arm of your easy chair. Get mad. Hoot the umpire, just as you would if you were actually at the game. Don't forget to stand up for that seventh inning stretch.

Political speeches — Lie full length on sofa with your head turned away from the TV set. Put fingers in both ears. Hold this position, eyes firmly closed, until speech is over.

Wrestling matches — Lie on floor with elbows on a pillow. Go through the motions of the two wrestlers. Live their epic struggle yourself. Bite pillow firmly at intervals. This will help build a firm jawline. Commercial — Rise quickly, rare to refrigerator, keeping head up, chin out. Get out can of beer, open it, sprint back to TV set. Relax, drink beer slowly.

Tense psychological dramas — Sit tensely on edge of straight-backed chair, toes clammily gripping inside of shoes. Try hard to make hair crawl on back of neck.

Musical plays—Hum the tunes yourself. Keep time to the music by tapping with feet and fingers.

Soap operas — Go ruddle in wife's lap with your arms held tightly around her neck. When she cries, you cry. Don't wipe away her tears. Let her wipe away yours.

"Rin-Tin-Tin" and "Lassie"—Get down on hands and knees. When villain appears on screen, growl at him menacingly or crawl headfirst under sofa, depending on your bravery.

Anyone who will try these different postures while enjoying TV may feel a bit of a fool at times. But who's watching anyway, except the wife and kids, and who cares what they think?

At the end of a week that "half tired feeling" will be all gone, and you'll feel as fit as a tiger, strong enough even may be to stay up and watch the late-late show.

Indication Of Degeneracy?

By George Sokolsky

Something new has come into the world. It reminds me of the Circassian slave markets where men bid for concubines and harlots after examining the chattel. This new thing is a set of three figures which appears in news stories and which apparently are the physical measurements of women.

I do not quite know how the reporters go about getting such measurements, as I have only been in this business 39 years and have never measured a woman. Maybe they carry tapes with them and whenever they see a woman they fall upon her measuring her various places for size. Or perhaps they interview her on the subject, asking politely, "Can you tell me what your size is around the hips and including your thighs?" Or perhaps the modest female employs a press agent who has her measurements all neatly printed on a calling card.

I am surprised that no one gives ankle-measurements; the length of the legs; the overall weight and similar data. Perhaps that will come some day when we reach the point when somebody will set up a bargain counter for the purchase of women to do strip-teases or for some other occupation where measurements are interesting.

Believe me, I am not a prude. I have lived in parts of the world where men and women wear as little clothes as possible because it is hot. I have seen millions of women suckle their babies at organs of immense dimensions. There was something beautiful and natural about that. This new and current obsession with a girl's measurements, put into a news story, seems to me to be vulgar, even degenerate and a mark of a decaying civilization.

It is necessary to give some thought to this because history is replete with the story of nations that once were great and that collapsed because the morals of the race ceased to control the lives of the people. No nation has had a longer continuous existence as a state than China; yet the past century of China's history has been a tale of degradation due to the degeneration of the people by opium, the heavy weight of plural marriages and the corruption of officials which developed into a system of administration. China collapsed not in 1949 when Chiang Kai-Shek fled to Formosa but in the 1850's and 1860's, after the ravages of the Taiping and other rebellions. A nation cannot stand firm when any considerable part of its population becomes degenerate.

These measurement figures in news stories, excluding all concepts of both modesty and privacy, must be taken as symptomatic of an era when the bars are let down. Sir Harold Nicolson has just published a book, "Good Behaviour," which deals with the varieties of good manners in various periods from ancient times to the present and no matter how you look at it, manners are the expression of morals in action. When manners disappear, it must mean that morals have become so weakened that social pressures do not exert much, if any, influence upon those who are not self-restrained but require some external influence to keep them in bounds. Surely, it cannot be good manners, even if no immor-talities are involved, to discuss a woman's measurements—the bust, the waistline and the hips—as though she were a horse.

These are all little things, but they are the weathervanes which establish which way the storm is moving. It is so curious that at a time when Soviet Russia has gone puritanical in self-defense against the weakening of its people, we, in a country founded by Puritans and Pilgrims, have lost our bearings.

It is possible to over-emphasize politics, to attribute all our advantages and all our woes to political action. It is as much an

Why do some become victims of this technique while others successfully resist?

Complex Problem

This is a complex problem and many things must be taken into consideration. But two doctors at Washington University in St. Louis have come up with a simplified explanation.

Behavior, Drs. George Winokur and Peter S. Santucci report is the result of mental, verbal and motor activity. Behavior usually is learned either by positive reward or by relief from fear.

A prisoner of war, for example, may be forced to write pro-Communist slogans while still not accepting those activities. Yet, when the promise of a reward is given, the doctors explain, behavior is reinforced.

Internal Conflict

If he does not believe in his activities, an internal conflict arises between his speech and motives and responses and his thinking.

Drs. Winokur ND Santucci explain that three paths are then captured, refuse to do their bidding or accept their teachings. Obviously, the first two methods will bring punishment and no rewards.

If the prisoner has a strong educational and social background and has an insight into political affairs, he is probably more able to accept short-lived punishment and refuse to do what his captors wish.

No Formal Education

On the other hand, a prisoner with no formal education and no interest in political or socio-economic developments is likely to become confused when lectured on controversial topics. Often he will absorb the ideas offered him. Once he is repatriated, this prisoner is apt to become confused again and another conflict arises between his thinking and that of the society to which he has been returned.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

N. G.: Is it possible for an enlarged liver to return to its normal size?

Answer: It depends upon the cause of the enlargement.

If it is due to heart disease, once the heart disease is corrected, the liver enlargement usually clears up. The same applies to liver infections in most instances.

However, if the enlargement is due to cancer or to cirrhosis of the liver that has remained untreated too long, the enlargement usually persists.

Robot Attendant Suffers Damage

COLUMBUS (AP)—The robot attendant at a municipal parking lot here suffered a broken arm, apparently in the line of duty.

City Traffic Engineer James V. Musick theorized that a chiseler had attempted to follow a paying customer through the gate. The arm of the electronic gate is timed so that it comes down on the "gate crasher" mid-hood. But no sign of a damaged car was found.

Air Pollution Cost High In New York

NEW YORK (AP)—An expert estimates that air pollution costs New York City $100 million a year.

Dr. Leonard Greenburg, city commissioner of air pollution control, told the American Society of Safety Engineers that air pollution is a "social evil" demanding constant surveillance.

Greenburg based his estimate of air pollution cost on illness, expenditures involved in cleaning away the effects of soot and the fogging-in of airports.

Eisenhower Proves His Courage By Veto

In talking with many Fayette County people, including several farmers, since the veto of the "omnibus" farm bill by President Eisenhower, there seems to be quite a difference of opinion as to what the political effect will be.

One thing stands out clearly however in the opinion of about nine out of ten who comment upon this action and that is that it definitely settles any question about Eisenhower's courage in following his convictions rather than attempting to play politics as the authors of the bill appeared to be doing in this election year.

President Eisenhower followed a difficult course at a critical time with an important presidential election not many months away but he appeared to be acting upon the celebrated Henry Clay theory that "he would rather be right than be president". The chances are, however, that he can be both right and continue to be president. That Congress has now upheld the veto probably is the best thing for the country.

The president was subjected to untold pressure from election-minded advisors but he "stuck to his guns" in his expressed feeling that the bill was "bad both for the farmers and country".

To most people who express their honest judgment the bill was a hopeless mess of demagoguery, designed by a Democratic majority as a vote-getter for congressmen who supported it in their hope for finding an issue to be used in the election against President Eisenhower.

To those who sincerely desired some type of aid for the farmers, yet wanted to be honest about the legislation, the bill was a misfit with elements of economic anarchy and preferential treatment for certain types of agriculture. It was far from being an honestly constructive piece of legislation.

Many of the best thinkers among legislators and members of the farm industry frankly state that they know the problem of farm surpluses can never be solved by persisting in surplus building policies such as the rigid 90 percent of parity payments advocated by Democrats (and some Republicans) as well for crudely selfish rather than economically sound effects.

President Eisenhower has now vindicated the staunch, lonely stand of Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Benson. He asserts in his veto message that the much-bruited farm problem is a problem of "price-depressing surpluses," which high parity payments turn into a vicious circle by stimulating ever more surpluses.

"Excess stocks of certain farm commodities," he states, "have mounted to market-destroying, price-depressing size as a result of wartime price incentives too long continued. Any forward-looking program to meet the needs of farm people must remove the burden of these accumulations. They are depressing net farm income by many hundreds of millions of dollars a year"—as well as costing the American public (Eisenhower might have added) billions of dollars a year in excessive government payments and artificially high prices on agricultural products.

The fact that the wretched farm bill was motivated by election year considerations in no wise mitigates its wretchedness. The presidency, under exactly the same political pressures as the Congress, managed to resist those pressures, whereas the Congress caved in at every critical point.

TV Make You Half-Tired?

NEW YORK (AP)—Are you getting the most out of your television viewing?

If not, perhaps you have only yourself to blame. Perhaps your posture is at fault.

In television watching, proper posture is as important as it is in the more competitive forms of sport—such as golf or tennis.

What is the right posture? There is no such thing as a single right posture. It depends on the program you are watching.

The trouble with most televiewers is that they stick to one posture. Typically, they sit slumped down in an easy chair that gradually cuts off the circulation in the lower part of the body.

What happens? When the fellow rises after a four-hour siege of staring at the one-eyed monster in his living room, his mind and glazed eyeballs are worn out and ready for bed.

But what about his legs and feet? They have been sound asleep for nearly four hours and are now wide awake. So what happens then? The upper part of this confused TV fan's body sleeps soundly all night, the bottom part of his body twists and turns restlessly.

By dawn he wakes up mentally refreshed, but his busy feet are now yawning and ready for sleep. No wonder such a fellow complains, "I always feel half-tired." He is half-tired, literally. His bad TV posture has gotten his body out of physical synchronization.

The way for him to get back into condition is to vary his posture with each program. Then, after a long evening of studying the television screen, all parts of his body will be equally exercised and ready for bed.

Since individuals vary, each person should work out a series of postures that seem best suited to his own needs. But here are a few suggestions:

TV baseball games — Don't merely sit stretch out with one leg thrown over the arm of your easy chair. Get mad. Hoot the umpire, just as you would if you were actually at the game. Don't forget to stand up for that seventh inning stretch.

Political speeches — Lie full length on sofa with your head turned away from the TV set. Put fingers in both ears. Hold this position, eyes firmly closed, until speech is over.

Wrestling matches — Lie on floor with elbows on a pillow. Go through the motions of the two wrestlers. Live their epic struggles yourself. Bite pillow firmly at intervals. This will help build a firm jawline.

Commercials — Rise quickly, race to refrigerator, keeping head up, chin out. Get out can of beer, open it, sprint back to TV set. Relax, drink beer slowly.

Tense psychological dramas — Sit tensely on edge of straight-backed chair, toes clammily gripping inside of shoes. Try hard to make hair crawl on back of neck.

Musical plays—Hum the tunes yourself. Keep time to the music by tapping with feet and fingers.

Soap operas — Go cuddle in wife's lap with your arms held tightly around her neck. When she cries, you cry. Don't wipe away her tears. Let her wipe away yours.

"Rin-Tin-Tin" and "Lassie"—Get down on hands and knees. When villain appears on screen, growl at him menacingly or crawl headfirst under sofa, depending on your bravery.

Anyone who will try these different postures while enjoying TV may feel a bit of a fool at times. But who's watching anyway, except the wife and kids, and who cares what they think?

At the end of a week that "half tired feeling" will be all gone, and you'll feel as fit as a tiger, strong enough even maybe to stay up and watch the late-late show.

Indication Of Degeneracy?

Something new has come into the world. It reminds me of the Circassian slave markets where men bid for concubines and harlots after examining the chattel. This new thing is a set of three figures which appears in news stories and which apparently are the physical measurements of women.

I do not quite know how the reporters go about getting such measurements, as I have only been in this business 39 years and have never measured a woman. Maybe they carry tapes with them and whenever they see a woman they fall upon her measuring her various places for size. Or perhaps they interview her on the subject, asking politely, "Can you tell me what your size is around the hips and including your thighs?" Or perhaps the modest female employs a press agent who has her measurements all neatly printed on a calling card.

I am surprised that no one gives ankle-measurements; the length of the legs; the over-all weight and similar data when we reach the point when somebody will set up a bargain counter for the purchase of women to do strip-teases or for some other occupation where measurements are interesting.

Believe me, I am not a prude. I have lived in parts of the world where men and women wear as little clothes as possible because it is hot. I have seen millions of women suckle their babies at organs of immense dimensions. There was something beautiful and natural about that. This new and current obsession with a girl's measurements, put into a news story, seems to me to be vulgar, even degenerate and a mark of a decaying civilization.

It is necessary to give some thought to this because history is replete with the story of nations that once were great and that collapsed because the morals of the race ceased to control the lives of the people. No nation has had a longer continuous existence as a state than China; yet the past century of China's history has been a tale of degradation due to the degeneration of the people by opium, the heavy weight of plural marriage, and the corruption of officials which developed into a system of administration. China collapsed not in 1949 when Chiang Kai-Shek fled to Formosa but in the 1850's and 1860's, after the ravages of the Taiping and other rebellions. A nation cannot stand firm when any considerable part of its population becomes degenerate.

These measurement figures in news stories, excluding all concepts of both modesty and privacy, must be taken as symptomatic of an era when the bars are let down. Sir Harold Nicolson has just published a book, "Good Behaviour," which deals with the varieties of good manners in various periods from ancient times to the present and no matter how you look at it, manners are the expression of morals in action. When manners disappear, it must mean that morals have become so weakened that social pressures do not exert much, if any, influence upon those who are not self-restrained but require some external influence to keep them in bounds. Surely, it cannot be good manners, even if no immoral-talities are involved, to discuss a woman's measurements—the bust, the waistline and the hips—as though she were a horse.

These are all little things, but they are the weathervanes which establish which way the storm is moving. It is so curious that at a time when Soviet Russia has gone puritanical in self-defense against the weakening of its people, we, in a country founded by Puritans and Pilgrims, have lost our bearings.

It is possible to over-emphasize politics, to attribute all our advantages and all our woes to political action. It is as much an

New Word Is Added To Your Vocabulary

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN
A new word has been added to your vocabulary recently—brainwashing.

We've heard a good deal about how it was used on our soldiers held prisoner by the Chinese Communists. And we'll probably hear more about it in the future.

Why do some become victims of this technique while others successfully resist?

Complex Problem

This is a complex problem and many things must be taken into consideration. But two doctors at Washington University in St. Louis have come up with a simplified explanation.

Behavior, Drs. George Winokur and Peter S. Santucci report is the result of mental, verbal and motor activity. Behavior usually is learned either by positive reward or by relief from fear.

A prisoner of war, for example, may be forced to write pro-Communist songs while still not accepting such activities. Yet, when the promise of a reward is given, the doctors explain, behavior is reinforced.

Internal Conflict

If he does not believe in his activities, an internal conflict arises between his speech and motor responses and his thinking.

Drs. Winokur ND Santucci explain that three paths are then capors, refuse to do their bidding or accept their teachings. Obviously, the first two methods will bring punishment and no rewards.

If the prisoner has a strong educational and social background and has an insight into political affairs, he is probably more able to accept short-lived punishment and refuse to do what his captors wish.

No Formal Education

On the other hand, a prisoner with no formal education and no interest in political or socio-economic developments is likely to become confused when lectured on controversial topics. Often he will absorb the ideas offered him. Once he is repatriated, this prisoner is apt to become confused again and another conflict arises between his thinking and that of the society to which he has been returned.

You Need The Church-The Church Needs You

Through good books the sages of the ages may speak to the children of this age. Good books are antidotes for juvenile delinquency and for adult delinquency. Good books increase our joys, soften our sorrows, ennoble our friendships, enlarge our ideals, refine our ambitions, guide our energies, feed our souls. They are companions in loneliness, friends in trouble, tools for work and guides in wayfaring. The church and the church library offer you books that will keep your boys from being crooks. Books help mold minds.

You Need The Church-The Church Needs You

MOLDING MINDS

Through good books the sages of the ages may speak to the children of this age. Good books are antidotes for juvenile delinquency and for adult delinquency. Good books increase our joys, soften our sorrows, ennoble our friendships, enlarge our ideals, refine our ambitions, guide our energies, feed our souls. They are companions in loneliness, friends in trouble, tools for work and guides in wayfaring. The church and the church library offer you books that will keep your boys from being crooks. Books help mold minds.

Olive oil gives chicken special flavor. Use the oil, along with minced parsley, for basting a broiling chicken. Or fry chicken pieces (dipped in seasoned flour) in a little olive oil, then use the drippings in the pan for a mushroom gravy.

Mrs. Arch Riber Guest Speaker Of Mother's Circle

The April meeting of Mothers Circle was held at the home of Mrs. William Heinz with a good attendance of members present.

Mrs. Marvin Thornburg, president, called the meeting to order and roll call was responded to by members relating religious experiences in their homes.

Mrs. Thornburg read the poem entitled "Heritage," and the usual reports as well as those of standing committees were heard and accepted.

Two new members, Mrs. Mark Schaeper and Mrs. Robert Boyd were accepted as new members, and the remainder of the business session was devoted to discussing and voting on amendments to the constitution and by-laws of the circle.

Mrs. Ray French, program chairman for the meeting introduced Mrs. Arch O. Riber in a talk on the subject "Spiritual Guidance of Children," during which she included many personal experiences with children and developed a well covered meaning which was both instructive as well as interesting to the members.

At the close of her talk, Mrs. Riber was presented with a lovely gift in appreciation for her enlightening talk.

During the social hour following Mrs. Heinz was assisted by Mrs. A. E. Weatherly, Mrs. Robert Terhune, Mrs. Donald Swaim and Mrs. Robert Woodmansee in the serving of tempting refreshments.

Mrs. Barney Is Hostess At WCTU Meeting

Members of the Sugar Grove W.C.S. assembled at the home of Mrs. Howard Barney Thursday afternoon for the April meeting.

Mrs. Eldon Bethards, president, opened the meeting with the reading of a poem, and a vocal solo "When Jesus Comes".

Devotions were led by Mrs. Harold Hise, and she used Scripture from the Book of James, led in the praying of the Lord's Prayer which was followed with two readings "Witnessing of Daily Work" and "A Description of African Bible Women", closing with a hymn.

The secretary's report was read by Mrs. Howard Barney, and Mrs. Willard Bonham, treasurer, gave her report.

Mrs. Carrie Wilson was appointed to fill the office of secretary, temporarily and Mrs. Willard Bonham and Mrs. Eldon Bethards reported on visits made to shut-ins at Easter and presenting them gifts.

Mrs. Bethards reported on the District W.C.S. meeting held recently in Chillicothe, and requested that missionary boxes be turned in at the May meeting.

Cards were sent to Mrs. Harold Breakfield and Mrs. Minnie Sturgeon, ill members, and the resignation of Mrs. John Junk as news reporter was accepted.

Mrs. Bethards announced Rural Life Sunday to be observed by the New Martinsburg Methodist Church at Forest Shade Grange Hall Sunday, May 6, and invited members of the Sugar Grove Church to attend.

Special activities for the month reported were 25 calls made, 44 cards sent, 12 bouquets, 13 donations and three gifts.

The program in charge of Mrs. Pearl Fryer, consisted of an article on "Women In The Missionary" with Mrs. Fryer, Mrs. Harold Hise, Mrs. Ida Kruger, Mrs. Ralph Yoss, Mrs. Eldon Bethards, Mrs. Omar Sturgeon and Mrs. Charles Hoppes reading the several parts.

The meeting was adjourned and during the social hour, Mrs. Barney was assisted by Mrs. John Merritt in the serving of refreshments.

Former Nancy Humphries Is Bride Of April 8

Mrs. Donald E. Curry

On Sunday, April 8, Miss Nancy Humphries, became the bride of Mr. Donald E. Curry, in a ceremony solemnized in the First Presbyterian Church in New Philadelphia.

Miss Humphries is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William W. Humphries, of Dover, who were former residents of Washington C. H. and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. John E. Curry of East Liverpool.

Rev. L. E. Pritchard officiated at the double ring ceremony at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon and decorations for the altar included a pair of spiral candelabra holding fifteen lighted tapers which shed a soft glow on vases of white snapdragons and roses with a background of palms.

Preceding the ceremony Mrs. Truman Dunn, of Canton, soloist, and Miss Carol Shaffer of Urchville, organist, presented a half hour of nuptial music. Mrs. Dunn's songs were "I Love Thee", "A Wedding Benediction", "Because" and "Wedding Prayer". Organ selections were "Wonderful One", "I Love You Truly", "Evening Star", "Theme From Romeo and Juliet", "To a Wild Rose" and the wedding marches.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in her gown of pure silk in candlelight shade, designed with a portrait neckline of soft folds with an insert of pearl and iridescent, re-embroidered Alencon lace, which was also carried out in the long sleeves. The empire bodice was complemented with an extremely bouffant skirt with jeweled Alencon extending down the front and the pleated panniered sides and back.

REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE FOR NOMINATION FOR FAYETTE COUNTY

Representative

TO THE
GENERAL ASSEMBLY
(FIRST TERM)

Welcome, I must say that the opportunity to run for a seat in the legislature rarely comes to a young person as interested in tomorrow as I am. If I had not taken the necessary steps in preparation, I would have always wondered about it.

Examining problems most thoroughly and leading public opinion in the direction the true facts warrant is the promise I wish to make you, the people of Fayette County.

My association with civic organizations and various groups of people, I feel I have the pulse of the good people of the county, and speak confidently in their behalf. This is important.

A public official should always give leadership and vision if possible, rather than just keep his ear to the ground. In the preservation of our good rich Fayette County soil, a good rotation is of vital importance. We must be politically sound, as well as economically sound, Develops thoughts in the minds of my fellow farmers that they must secure, have and hold policies for our betterment. Then we must direct these policies through organizational channels, whereby the farmer and producer conducts his own business.

I will always declare the government should be made of laws and the enforcement thereof, and not of men who love to use the farm problems as a means of political support.

Enthusiasm . . . that's the ticket . . . having always been interested in serving the public, I have hard earned knowledge to employ in a greater service. Nothing great was ever achieved without enthusiasm.

I MOST SOLEMNLY AND SINCERELY SOLICIT YOUR SUPPORT IN MY BEHALF AT THE COMING PRIMARY ELECTION, MAY 8, 1956 AND I ASSURE YOU IT WILL BE APPRECIATED.

State Senate Candidates Explain Positions On School Foundation

What are the qualifications of the three candidates for state senator from the fifth and sixth congressional districts?

Ray Brandenburg of Washington C. H. and Lowell Fess of Yellow Springs, candidates for the Republican nomination, and Reed M. Winegardner of Washington C. H., candidate for the Democratic nomination, have listed their answers on a questionnaire sent them by the League of Women Voters.

Each man was asked to list his education, occupation and any special training and experience which would qualify him for the office. The man elected would represent Ross, Highland, Fayette, Clinton and Greene Counties in the state Legislature.

In addition, each was asked, "How do you propose that Ohio finance the increased cost of its School Foundation program, and how should needed classroom construction be financed?"

Brandenburg answered that "some form of taxation" would be the "only way" to finance the expanded School Foundation program, but added that was not yet prepared to suggest the form of the tax.

Fess's reply was that he favors appropriation from the state's general fund, rather than creation of a new "earmarked" tax.

Winegardner, like Brandenburg, suggested a new tax. He recommended that the state tax commissioner, Stanley J. Bowers, be consulted for advice on the method of taxation.

THE CANDIDATES were sent the questionnaires by the Yellow Springs League of Women Voters, which then forwarded copies of the replies to the Washington C. H. League.

Brandenburg, 56, a graduate of the Vernon Township School in Clinton County, won a scholarship to Ohio Wesleyan, which he attended for one year. He also took a summer course at Wilmington College and taught an eighth-grade school for two years, which, he said, "was an education in itself."

He now holds three auto dealerships, two in Washington C. H. and one in Wilmington, and owns ElRay Farms. The three farms, operated on a 50-50 basis with their managers, specialize in registered Hereford cattle.

Brandenburg served for 12 years on the Washington C. H. Board of Education and was president of the board for several years. He is past president of the Ohio Automobile Dealers Association and for six years was Ohio director of the National Automobile Dealers Association.

He was one of the organizers of the Washington C. H. Chamber of Commerce and served as its president for two terms.

He has been finance chairman of the Fayette County Republican Committee since 1952 and is also finance chairman of the Grace Methodist Church. He is also a past president of the Rotary Club here.

FESS, 60, is a graduate of Bryan

He majored in political science and history in college and at OSU, and taught both subjects in East Liverpool High School for two years.

After returning from overseas service in World War I, Fess was for four years secretary to his father, the late U. S. Senator Simon D. Fess.

He was mayor of Yellow Springs for six years, is a former member of the Greene County Board of Elections, and was chairman of both the Republican central and executive committees in Greene County.

HE WAS state representative from Greene County for eight years before his election to the state Senate, where he is now serving his second term.

Winegardner, 56, is a graduate of Harrod High School and of the Ohio Northern University College of Law.

An attorney, he became a member of the Ohio Bar the year he graduated from Ohio Northern, 1921. He has practiced law since then.

He served the Ohio Tax Commission from 1935 to 1937 as district supervisor, district manager and deputy commissioner. In 1938, he was assistant Attorney General of Ohio.

He will be unopposed for the Democratic nomination in the May 8 primaries.

Warren Finance Accord Sought

WARREN (R)—City Solicitor W. Leo Keating said he would seek today a court order which would direct the vying factions of City Hall to get together so that the bills of the city could be paid.

Keating said the writ of mandamus would be directed against 10 members of council.

Open House Set For New Motel

Tour Of Inspection Planned For Public

The Herefordshire Motel on the CCC Highway-west, Fayette County's newest overnight place, will hold a "grand opening" open house Sunday from 12 noon until 4 P. M.

Named "after the great Hereford industry here in Fayette County," according to the owner, George Blackmore, the motel has been actually open for business for more than a month. But this will be the first chance that visitors will have to go through it.

Guided tours will be run through the building by the management. All the high spots of the tour will be pointed out and described to the owner himself.

The motel, which has been under construction for many months now is a ten-unit operation with a lobby, a pool in front and a variety of modern conveniences.

A stone pylon, the replica of a Kansas City monument to the Hereford bull, stands at the entrance to the motel. The Fayette County Hereford Association will erect a bull on top of the pylon as a symbol of the "Herefordshire of Ohio."

Construction of the building and the cement and stone work about it was done by Blackmore and two co-workers. The building was of his own design. Materials for it were supplied by the Pease Woodwork Co. of Hamilton.

Building stones and concrete were provided by the Armbrust Building Supplies Co. of Washington C. H., and the plumbing and heating equipment was installed by Charles A. Willis of Greenfield.

HILL ELECTRIC Co. of Jeffersonville installed the electrical equipment, while the paint was supplied by Goodsell's Wallpaper and Paint Store of Washington C. H.

Interior decoration was done by Mrs. Blackmore and William Goldsberry. Craig Bros. Department Store laid the inlaid linoleum. The Cussins & Fearn Store supplied small hardware and Yeoman Radio and TV installed the central music system which broadcasts music to all the units.

There are 22 beds in the new motel, and baby beds are available for small children. Blackmore says the place can comfortably accommodate 40 adults.

A kitchen at the motel is equipped to serve refreshments to guests in the evening and a continental breakfast to send guests on their way in the morning.

Half of the ten units are equipped with television. All units are wired for telephones and are furnished with uninterrupted music and individually controlled heat.

In the main lounge, there is a built-in television set, an aquarium, a fireplace and a gun rack.

Ducks and bass are to inhabit the pool in front of the motel. Blackmore hopes to build a swimming pool sometime in the future. It would be a public pool during the morning and early afternoon, he said, and free to the guests later in the day.

Roses will adorn the front of the building as soon as the weather warms up enough for them to bloom.

The motel is the first venture of this sort for Blackmore, who is a Fayette County native and has lived here most of his life. He has been a salesman for various companies in this area. He and Mrs. Blackmore have two children, Nelson, 13, and Gayle, 11.

127 Service Businesses In Fayette County Take In $1,564,000 in Year

Receipts of 127 service establishments enumerated in Fayette County in the 1954 Census of Business amounted to about $1,564,000, according to a preliminary report covering service trades, published by the Bureau of the Census, U. S. Department of Commerce.

The combined yearly payroll of the county's service establishments was $277,000. They reported 175 employees of whom 131 worked full-time in the pay period ending near November 15. Proprietors active employed in the operation of unincorporated businesses numbered 124.

There were 53 establishments providing personal services and reported receipts of $552,000, of which 23 were primarily engaged in automotive repair, parking and other automotive services and had receipts of $172,000.

Establishments listed as "all other services" in the preliminary report numbered 51 and had receipts of $840,000.

"Personal services" group includes such businesses as barber and beauty shops, cleaning and dyeing plants, laundries and laundry services, garment alteration and repair services, funeral services, photographic studios, shoe repair shops and shoe parlors, as well as other personal services.

"Automotive services" group includes general automobile repair shops, battery service shops, tire repair shops, body repair and paint shops, automobile rentals, storage garages, parking lots, auto laundries, and other miscellaneous automotive services.

"All other selected services" group includes business services, miscellaneous repair services, amusement and recreation services, motion pictures, hotels, tourist courts, motels and camps.

Your School Report Card

By W. A. SMITH
(City School Superintendent)

Miss Skaggs' sixth grade at Central School studied directions in their English class Wednesday.

A business place name was given each child (AAA, Western Union, Patton's, etc.), and he attempted to give sufficiently concise and correct instructions as to how to reach his assigned location for the other children to guess.

It became increasingly apparent to the children that the giving of "good" and "accurate" directions is a difficult task and an accomplishment very much to be desired. Several of the children were unable to tell where their business was located and drew the outside assignment of making a visit there. The other children are anxious to see if these actual visits will have enabled the direction-givers greater facility and exactness. It is to be hoped that these sixth graders will henceforth be more observant.

A nearly life-sized llama of cardboard and paper mache has been a "free-time" project in the room for a number of weeks. Although not completed, it definitely looks like a llama and has been greatly enjoyed.

At a meeting this week, the City zenship Club of Central School Sixth Grade elected new officers for the last six weeks term. They are as follows:

President, Paul Shaltry; vice president, Nancy Mills; secretary, Linda Hurt; treasurer, M. A. H. Hurt.

The U. S. death rate from Pneumonia has dropped from around 55 per 100,000 inhabitants in 1935 to around 8 per 100,000 a year to day.

Parkinson Attends Managers Meeting

James F. Parkinson, city manager, is attending the spring meeting of the Ohio City Managers Association at Delaware. He went for the Thursday afternoon and night session and remained over for the series of meetings Friday.

The sessions are being held in one of the Ohio Wesleyan University assembly halls and are being attended by city managers from throughout Ohio.

Dr. Earl Warner of Ohio Wesleyan University gave the address of welcome.

One of the important matters under discussion was the various types of traffic light signals, and the desirability of each system.

Shaw's Works Said Worth $12 Million

LONDON (AP)—The works of the late George Bernard Shaw, Irish wit and man of letters, still have a potential earning power of $12

200,000, the British tax collector has decided.

That amount was fixed as the value of Shaw's copyrights around the world, increasing his taxable estate to about $1,680,000, the tax collector's office announced. Shaw died in 1950.

Little Interest In B&O Trains

Last Two Through
Here May Be Cut

For the second time an examiner for the Public Utilities Commission has recommended that the commission permit withdrawal of the only two remaining passenger trains on the B&O Railroad through Washington C. H.

In this connection, Charles Reinke, president of the Chamber of Commerce here stated that unless more public interest is shown against withdrawal of the two trains, the Chamber of Commerce probably will make no further appearance against the withdrawal.

At previous hearing when the chamber here was represented, there was little opposition voiced by representatives of cities along the line, and inasmuch as there has been little opposition here, the next hearing may result in an edict by the commission permitting the B&O to withdraw the trains.

THE LATEST developments in connection with withdrawal of the trains is carried in the following AP dispatch:

An examiner for the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio today submitted a second recommendation that the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Co. be permitted to discontinue its last two through passenger trains between Wheeling, W. Va., and Cincinnati.

Examiner Howard Johnson Jr. entered a similar recommendation last June 7, but the commission ordered further hearings on the company's application.

B&O train Nos. 233 and 238 make stops at Bellaire, Cambridge, Newark, Zanesville, Columbus, Washington C. H., Wilmington and 29 other stations across the 251-mile route in Ohio.

A final hearing in the case was held last Dec. 14 when the railroad reiterated its contention that heavy financial losses made the discontinuance mandatory.

The railroad said it lost $264,445 during the first nine months of 1954 and $290,266 during 1953.

It also argued that passengers using the service decreased from 109,457 in 1946 to 31,585 in 1953.

Johnson said he recommended the evidence showed the company's losses were increasing while the service was discontinued since the number of passengers using the two trains was decreasing.

The railroad said it would continue to run two trains between Newark and Wheeling if its application is approved.

The commission is expected to make a final decision before June.

Jeff's Tigers Win 15 to 4

Jeffersonville's Tigers racked up their fifth victory of the chilly baseball season on their own lot Thursday afternoon when they swamped the boys from Good Hope, 15 to 4.

It was one of those games in which the Tigers were clicking all along the line and the Mad Anthony boys were just unable to get going. Wright and Mason, who shared the pitching chores for the Tigers had all the Good Hope boys except Bonecutter handcuffed at the plate. Together they turned in a performance that was marred only by the two singles Bonecutter collected. He drove in 2 runs with one of them.

Wright was the big gun for the Tigers. He got a single, a double and two triples in five trips. M. Arnold also smacked out a three-bagger and G. Jordan and Mason came through with a double apiece. After the Tigers had taken a 7-2 lead at the end of the first frame, it appeared fairly certain that they had wrapped up the game.

The Tiger have a 7-3 record for the split season to date. They won 2 and lost 1 last fall.

'Bama Grid Fuss Finally Settled

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP)—Nearly 100 University of Alabama athletes have moved back into the school's athletic dormitory after officials agreed to their demands for less stringent regulations.

After a meeting yesterday with Athletic Director Henry G. Crisp, the athletes issued a statement which said the "whole athletic situation has been united through our sessions the last few days."

The athletes quit the athletic dormitory Tuesday night after they said the coaches insisted on "tucking us into bed" and other "juvenile" practices.

All twilight-night double headers in the Eastern League this season start at 6:30 o'clock.

Meet Won by Indians

Only 5 Points Separate Three At The Finish

Only five points separated winning Hillsboro from third-place Washington, C. H. in Thursday's triangular track meet at Gardner Park.

Hillsboro, with 51½ points, nipped second-place London by a scant point and a half. London's 50-point total was, in turn, just a hair ahead of the WHS Lions' 46½.

Two out of the Lions' three first places were garnered by Bob Hunter, who won the 220-yard dash in 23.2 seconds and tied with Hillsboro's Gilliland for first in the broad jump at 18 feet, 7 inches.

Another top spot was grabbed off for the Lions by lanky David Lee, who high-jumped 5 feet, 7 inches.

London led going into the last event, when the disqualification of the Raider mile relay team permitted Hillsboro to take the lead.

120-yard high hurdles (18.3)—Long (L), Heistand (H), Lee (W) and Onny (H).

100-yard dash (10.3)—Gilliland (H), Hunter (W), Carter (L) and Foster (H).

Mile run—(5:03)—Smith (H), Ferguson (L), Owens (H) and Kelley (W). Half-mile relay (1:38.4)—London (Carter, Gibson, Long and Tugley) and Washington (C. H. Foster, Enrich, Rehm, Hunter).

400-yard dash (2:06)—Gilliland (H), Long (L), Heistand (H), Williams (W) and Duffey (L) and Onny (H) tie for fourth.

800-yard run (2:06)—Gilliland (H), Kelley (W), Owens (H) and Ferguson (L).

220-yard dash (23.2)—Hunter (W), Foster (W), Carter (L) and Gibson (L).

Mile relay—Hillsboro and Washington (C. H.).

Shot put (42 ft. 4 in.)—Pendleton (L), Blankenship (H) and Schlichter (W) tie for second place and Price (H) tie for third.

Broad jump (18 ft. 7 in.)—Gilliland (H) and Hunter (W) tie for first, and Long (L) and Smith (H).

Pole vault (19 ft. 10 in.)—Price (H), Brown (W), Miller (W) and Smith (L).

High jump (5 ft. 7 in.)—Lee (W), Dillon (L) and Gibson (L) and Onny (H) tie for third.

Discus throw (121 ft. 4 in.)—Pendleton (L), Tugley (L), Strack (H) and Schlichter (W).

Points: Hillsboro 51½, London 50 and Washington C. H. 46½.

Campy Chalks Up His 1,000th Hit

JERSEY CITY, N. J. (AP)—Roy Campanella lined a double for his 1,000th major league hit yesterday and gave the Brooklyn Dodgers a total of six players with 1,000 or more career hits. That's tops in either league.

The others are Peeewe Reese, Jackie Robinson, Duke Snider, Carl Furillo and Gil Hodges.

Campy's 1,000th scored the tying run in the 10th inning as the Brooks beat Philadelphia 5-4.

The St. Louis Cardinals, with Stan Musial, Red Schoendienst, Hank Sauer and Walker Cooper

SINGLEFOOTING AROUND the track in the mile event at Gardner Park Wednesday is Ronnie Kelley of WHS. Kelley lost a shoe near the end of the second lap, ran more than half the mile with one shoe on, one shoe off (arrow). Amazingly enough, he finished in the money. Though he ran third, he was set back to fourth on an interference charge. The photo was taken as Kelley and London's Ferguson fought it out for the lead at the three-quarter-mile mark. In third place at the time was Hillsboro's Herbert Owens. Kelley was charged with cutting in Owens when he lost his shoe. Hillsboro's Smith (not shown) finally won the event. (Record-Herald photo)

WHS Lions Enter Lancaster Tourney

The WHS Lion nine will come up against three top baseball teams of this area Saturday when they take on Lancaster, Upper Arlington and Columbus St. Charles in a tourney battle.

The one-day, single-elimination tournament will be held in Lancaster.

The schedule calls for Lancaster and WHS to play one first-round game on one of Lancaster's diamonds, while St. Charles and Upper Arlington play on the other.

follow the Dodgers in the veteran hitters department.

Eight horses have won racing's Triple Crown—the Kentucky Derby, Belmont and Preakness. They were Sir Barton, Gallant Fox, Omaha, War Admiral, Whirlaway, Count Fleet, Assault and Citation.

Ohio State has won the NCAA swimming championship nine times.

beat Chicago in three tries. Even though figured to win 20 the same old nightmare alley Thursday. He fanned 10 and gave just two hits, yet lost 1-0 to the White Sox, who got a two-hitter themselves from Jack Harshman and scored the lone run without a hit.

With that follow-up to Billy Pierce's 2-1, five-hit victory, opening day, Chicago swept the two-game set between the two pennant threats and stayed unbeaten in the AL along with Boston, which defeated Baltimore 4-2 behind Tom Brewer's two-hitter, and Kansas City, which banged Detroit 4-1 on Bobby Shantz's five-hit pitching. The New Yankees, after thumping Washington twice, were dumped by the Senators 7-3.

In the National, only Milwaukee remained unbeaten, edging the Chicago Cubs 3-1 while Pittsburgh knocked the New York Giants to their first defeat 3-2. Brooklyn and beat Philadelphia 5-4 in 10 innings. Cincinnati also had to go 10 to beat St. Louis 10-9 with each club swatting four homers.

For all the homers it was a bases-loaded single by Wally Post off reliever Ellis Kinder—who fanned Wally to save Tuesday's opener—that got the job done for the Redlegs. Ray Jablonski grand-slammed to get the Reds back in the game in the seventh. Ted Kluszewski (his first), Post and Smokey Burgess also homered for the Reds. Stan Musial, Wally Moon and Bill Sarni, who got two, whacked 'em for the Cards.

Jeff PTC Holds Kids' Pet Show

Last Meet Features Officers' Election

The youngsters of the Jeffersonville School put on a pet show during Thursday night's Parent-Teacher Club meeting, the last of the school year.

Everything from a big Dalmation to a baby rabbit was on view during the show, a highlight of the meeting.

Another feature was the election of officers for the coming school year. The new president is Russell Hall, principal of the grade school.

Other officers elected at the session were Mrs. Owen Price, vice president; Mrs. Cecil Long, secretary; and Mrs. Robert Zimmerman, treasurer.

The retiring president, Mrs. John Baird, thanked the members for their co-operation during her two years in office.

Prin. Harry Phillips offered in return the thanks of the group for her leadership.

To wind up its year's activities, the project committee recommended laying down blacktop strips under the playground equipment.

Other projects for the end of the year will be replacement of the fan-shaped basketball backboards in the gym with square boards, and repair of the basketball time clock.

THE GROUP also voted $5 to the Cancer Fund and expressed thanks to Mrs. Ray Shoemaker for her work on the athletic banquet. A total of $15.95 was added to the treasury from sales tax stamp proceeds.

Certificates were awarded to seven children for the PTC meeting invitations they had made for their parents.

Winners were John Phillips, Patty Ater, David Owens, Patsy Ann Ward, Phillip Price, Julie Stuckey and Judith Ann Smith.

The attendance banner went to Mrs. William Pelley's second grade class. A dozen of their parents were at the meeting.

Speaker was Herbert Perrill of the Miami Trace school board. He explained provisions of the Miami Trace Board's recent resolution that no new survey of the county's school needs would be authorized.

PRESIDENT-elect Russell Hall of the PTC was chairman of the pet show. Judges were Mrs. Gilbert Adams, Miss Phyllis Grimme and Robert Hildreth.

Winner in a special "tricks" class for performing pets was Ruth Margaret Binegar's toy Boston bull. Ruth would toss a balloon in the air and the dog would bounce it off his nose to keep it in the air.

Penny Price's dancing Dalmation took second in the class. Penny had her dog all decked out in a dress for the dance, in which Penny herself was the dog's partner.

In the "pup" class, winners were entered by Charles Webb (first) and Judy Carr (second).

Other winners and runnersup (in that order):

Dogs—Faith Coss and Ruth Margaret Binegar;

Cats—Marilyn Ritenour and Donald Creamer;

Kittens—Karen Garringer and Mary Elizabeth Slaughter;

Lambs and rabbits—Roger Zimmerman and Brenda Milleson.

At the close of the session, refreshments were served by a committee headed by Mrs. John Ritenour.

Harold Breakfield Dies At Hospital

Harold E. Breakfield, 85, died early Friday at Memorial Hospital here. He had been seriously ill for about three weeks and in failing health for some time.

A lifelong resident of Fayette County, he had farmed here until his retirement. At the time of his death, he made his home at 724 South Hinde Street.

Survivors include his wife, Theresa, a sister, Miss Minnie Break-

Church Of Christ In Jeffersonville Has New Pastor

The Jeffersonville Church of Christ today has a new pastor, a 22-year-old divinity student.

He is Rev. Robert Wright, a student at the Cincinnati Bible Seminary. He is completing the third of his four years of study there.

He and his wife, Myrna, live in Cincinnati and will come to Jeffersonville each weekend. They plan to stay at the home of Mrs. Leora Booco on High Street, according to Mrs. Edna Elitzroth, the church secretary.

Rev. Wright has been assistant pastor of the Chase Avenue Church of Christ in Cincinnati for the past two years.

New hours for services at the Jeffersonville Church are:

Morning worship, 9:30 A. M.; Communion, 10 A. M.; Bible School, 10:30 A. M.; youth endeavor, 7 P. M., and evening services, 8 P. M.

Five To Attend National Meet

CAR Delegates Off To Convention City

Three Fayette County youngsters today are on their way to Washington D. C., where they will be delegates to the national convention of the Children of the American Revolution.

Accompanying Tom and Julie Rankin and Jerry Powell to Washington will be the adult leaders of the CAR chapter here, called the Miami Trace Society.

They are Mrs. Richard Rankin, senior president of the chapter, and Mrs. Dean Powell, her assistant. The two adult leaders are incidentally the mothers of the three young delegates.

The group left Washington C. H. for Washington D. C., on Thursday. They expect to drive the distance and arrive in plenty of time for the convention's opening on Saturday.

A conducted tour of the capital city will follow Saturday morning's opening session, during which the massed flags of all 48 states, Hawaii and Alaska will be presented, along with the American and CAR flags.

YOUNG POWELL will be among the color bearers, carrying the state flag of Minnesota. He was appointed a color bearer for the full session.

A formal dinner dance at the convention headquarters, the Hotel Mayflower, is scheduled for Saturday evening.

The delegates from all over the nation will attend church services Sunday morning at the National Cathedral. Wreath-laying services will follow at Mt. Vernon.

After a picnic lunch, the newly-elected national officers of the CAR will be installed. Final tour of the convention will take the delegates to the tomb of the Unknown Revolutionary Soldier at Alexandria, Va.

The Miami Trace Society is one of three in the state nominated for the gold cup award for outstanding achievement. Also competing for the award are the Canton and Gallion chapters.

The chapter here placed second in the state year book competition and was awarded honorable mention in the service class for its gifts to Indian schools.

William M. Maynard Dies In West Union

William Martin Maynard, 80, died Thursday morning at the Adanson Rest Home in West Union. He had been in failing health for about a year.

Although never a resident of this area, he had one daughter and several grandchildren who live here. He was a farmer in Adams County for most of his life.

Survivors include his wife, Laura Belle; three sons, Walker of Springfield, Manford of Springfield and Emmons of Kermit, W. Va.; five daughters, Mrs. Nora Horn of Warfield, Ky.; Mrs. Zella Wylie of Locust Grove; Mrs. Tamsey Bennett of Columbus; Mrs. Iona Hook of Columbus and Mrs. Frank C. Sanders of Washington C. H.; two brothers, one sister, 27 grandchildren and 44 great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 2 P. M. Saturday at the Wylie Funeral Home in Sinking Springs. Friends may call at the Funeral Home at any time.

Firemen Called To Put Out Grass Fire

Firemen made a run to the Otis Lacey premises on Lewis Road near B&O Railroad Thursday afternoon to extinguish a grass fire which presumably had been started by sparks from a locomotive.

It required only a short time to handle the fire and no damage was reported.

SIXTEEN CASES UP HILLSBORO — The Highland County Grand Jury will consider 16 cases when it meets Monday, including several persons charged with driving while drunk.

FACING CHARGES — Herbert V. Ramsey, 23, is facing a charge of criminal attack upon a 12-year-old girl.

Dangers at RR Crossings Told

Accident Prevention Week Set Apr. 22-28

Four percent of the nation's grade crossing deaths occurred in Ohio last year. But the president of the Ohio State Safety Council, J. W. Dykes states that the 1955 record was an all time low: 112 killed, 368 injured in a total of 590 collisions of motor vehicles and railroad trains. The figures do not include casualties to railroad employees.

Dykes remarked that a person has only a 50-50 chance of escaping injury or death if his car is involved in a grade crossing crash.

Railroads, the Governor's Traffic Safety Committee, the Ohio Department of Highway Safety, the State Safety Council and many other traffic agencies cooperate in a year round program to reduce auto and train collisions.

GOVERNOR Lausche, in designating April 22-28 as Highway Railroad Crossing Accident Prevention Week, stated that the current program was effective but that casualties "obviously could have been lessened had more precaution been practiced". The Governor urged "the people throughout the state to exercise every caution in their driving that these grade crossing accidents may be avoided".

Dykes stated, "The Governor's plea for more caution in driving is direct to the point. Nearly a third of these crashes are cases of cars ramming into trains already on the crossing. Injuries in this type are severe. They are similar to running into a brick wall.

Almost as many drivers tell their cars on the track in front of an approaching train. Occupants of the auto frequently have escaped from the car but seconds before the collision.

OHIO LAW forbids a motorist to drive on a track when an electrical or mechanical signal or a flagman indicates that a train is coming. It is also illegal to drive around a lowered gate or a crossing.

Many reports to the safety council indicate that these laws are violated frequently. . . and such violations produce many of the collisions where trains strike vehicles.

During the Crossing Week observance all media of public information will remind motorists that "Any time is train time on any track". The auto that does not get on a track when a train is approaching just isn't involved in a collision.

"Watch for the round yellow warning sign on the state highways. It warns of a railroad no more than 500 feet away. A white X shaped sign, known as the crossbuck is at trackside of practically every crossing in the state. Be ready to stop for trains can't dodge", was Dykes' last suggestion for safer motoring.

Jeff PTC Holds Kids' Pet Show

Last Meet Features Officers' Election

The youngsters of the Jeffersonville School put on a pet show during Thursday night's Parent-Teacher Club meeting, the last of the school year.

Everything from a big Dalmatian to a baby rabbit was on view during the show, a highlight of the meeting.

Another feature was the election of officers for the coming school year. The new president is Russell Hall, principal of the grade school.

Other officers elected at the session were Mrs. Owen Price, vice president; Mrs. Cecil Long, secretary; and Mrs. Robert Zimmerman, treasurer.

The retiring president, Mrs. John Baird, thanked the members for their co-operation during her two years in office.

Prin. Harry Phillips offered in return the thanks of the group for her leadership.

To wind up its year's activities, the project committee recommended laying down blacktop strips under the playground equipment.

Other projects for the end of the year will be replacement of the fan-shaped basketball backboards in the gym with square boards, and repair of the basketball time clock.

THE GROUP also voted $5 to the Cancer Fund and expressed thanks to Mrs. Ray Shoemaker for her work on the athletic banquet. A total of $15.95 was added to the treasury from sales tax stamp proceeds.

Certificates were awarded to seven children for the PTC meeting invitations they had made for their parents.

Winners were John Phillips, Patty Ater, David Owens, Patsy Ann Ward, Phillip Price, Julie Stuckey and Judith Ann Smith.

The attendance banner went to Mrs. William Pelley's second grade class. A dozen of their parents were at the meeting.

Speaker was Herbert Perrill of the Miami Trace school board. He explained provisions of the Miami Trace Board's recent resolution that no new survey of the county's school needs would be authorized.

PRESIDENT-elect Russell Hall of the PTC was chairman of the pet show. Judges were Mrs. Gilbert Adams, Miss Phyllis Grimme and Robert Hildreth.

Winner in a special "tricks" class for performing pets was Ruth Margaret Binegar's toy Boston bull. Ruth would toss a balloon in the air and the dog would bounce it off his nose to keep it in the air.

Penny Price's dancing Dalmation took second in the class. Penny had her dog all decked out in a dress for the dance, in which Penny herself was the dog's partner.

In the "pup" class, winners were entered by Charles Webb (first) and Judy Carr (second.)

Other winners and runnersup (in that order):

Dogs—Faith Coss and Ruth Margaret Binegar;

Cats—Marilyn Ritenour and Donald Creamer;

Kittens—Karen Garringer and Mary Elizabeth Slaughter;

Lambs and rabbits—Roger Zimmerman and Brenda Milleson.

At the close of the session, refreshments were served by a committee headed by Mrs. John Ritenour.

Five To Attend National Meet

CAR Delegates Off To Convention City

Three Fayette County youngsters today are on their way to Washington D. C., where they will be delegates to the national convention of the Children of the American Revolution.

Accompanying Tom and Julie Rankin and Jerry Powell to Washington will be the adult leaders of the CAR chapter here, called the Miami Trace Society.

They are Mrs. Richard Rankin, senior president of the chapter, and Mrs. Dean Powell, her assistant. The two adult leaders are, incidentally, the mothers of the three young delegates.

The group left Washington C. H. for Washington D. C., on Thursday. They expect to drive the distance and arrive in plenty of time for the convention's opening on Saturday.

A conducted tour of the capital city will follow Saturday morning's opening session, during which the massed flags of all 48 states, Hawaii and Alaska will be presented, along with the American and CAR flags.

YOUNG POWELL will be among the color bearers, carrying the state flag of Minnesota. He was appointed a color bearer for the full session.

A formal dinner dance at the convention headquarters, the Hotel Mayflower, is scheduled for Saturday evening.

The delegates from all over the nation will attend church services Sunday morning at the National Cathedral. Wreath-laying services will follow at Mt. Vernon.

After a picnic lunch, the newly-elected national officers of the CAR will be installed. Final tour of the convention will take the delegates to the tomb of the Unknown Revolutionary Soldier at Alexandria, Va.

The Miami Trace Society is one of three in the state nominated for the gold cup award for outstanding achievement. Also competing for the award are the Canton and Gallion chapters.

The chapter here placed second in the state year book competition and was awarded honorable mention in the service class for its gifts to Indian schools.

William M. Maynard Dies In West Union

William Martin Maynard, 80, died Thursday morning at the Admanson Rest Home in West Union. He had been in failing health for about a year.

Although never a resident of this area, he had one daughter and several grandchildren who live here. He was a farmer in Adams County for most of his life.

Survivors include his wife, Laura Belle; three sons, Walker of Springfield, Manford of Springfield and Emmons of Kermit, W. Va.; five daughters, Mrs. Nora Horn of Warfield, Ky.; Mrs. Zella Wylie of Locust Grove, Mrs. Tamsey Bennett of Columbus, Mrs. Iona Hook of Columbus and Mrs. Frank C. Sanders of Washington C. H.; two brothers, one sister, 27 grandchildren and 44 great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 2 P. M. Saturday at the Wylie Funeral Home in Sinking Springs. Friends may call at the Funeral Home at any time.

Firemen Called To Put Out Grass Fire

Firemen made a run to the Otis Lacey premises on Lewis Road near B&O Railroad Thursday afternoon to extinguish a grass fire which presumably had been started by sparks from a locomotive.

It required only a short time to handle the fire and no damage was reported.

Dangers at RR Crossings Told

Accident Prevention Week Set Apr. 22-28

Four percent of the nation's grade crossing deaths occurred in Ohio last year. But the president of the Ohio State Safety Council, J. W. Dykes states that the 1955 record was an all time low: 112 killed, 368 injured in a total of 590 collisions of motor vehicles and railroad trains. The figures do not include casualties to railroad employees.

Dykes remarked that a person has only a 50-50 chance of escaping injury or death if his car is involved in a grade crossing crash.

Railroads, the Governor's Traffic Safety Committee, the Ohio Department of Highway Safety, the State Safety Council and many other traffic agencies cooperate in a year round program to reduce auto and train collisions.

GOVERNOR Lausche, in designating April 22-28 as Highway Railroad Crossing Accident Prevention Week, stated that the current program was effective but that casualties "obviously could have been lessened had more precaution been practiced". The Governor urged "the people throughout the state to exercise every caution in their driving that these grade crossing accidents may be avoided".

Dykes stated, "The Governor's plea for more caution in driving is direct to the point. Nearly a third of these crashes are cases of cars ramming into trains already on the crossing. Injuries in this type are severe. They are similar to running into a brick wall.

Almost as many drivers tall their cars on the track in front of an approaching train. Occupants of the auto frequently have escaped from the car but seconds before the collision.

OHIO LAW forbids a motorist to drive on a track when an electrical or mechanical signal or a flagman indicates that a train is coming. It is also illegal to drive around a lowered gate or a crossing. Many reports to the safety council indicate that these laws are violated frequently. . . and such violations produce many of the collisions where trains strike vehicles.

During the Crossing Week observance all media of public information will remind motorists that "Any time is train time on any track". The auto that does not get on a track when a train is approaching just isn't involved in a collision.

"Watch for the round yellow warning sign on the state highways. It warns of a railroad no more than 500 feet away. A white X shaped sign, known as the crossbuck is at trackside of practically every crossing in the state. Be ready to stop - for trains can't dodge", was Dykes last suggestion for safer motoring.
